Swiftly and unexpectedly this afternoon the United States Senate, sitting as a committee of the whole, adopted the first eighteen articles

Each article was adopted by viva voce vote without roll call. Action came at the conclusion of a speech by Senator Lodge, explaining the treaty.

TWO WOMEN, FOUR MEN ARRESTED BY DRY RAIDERS

Police and Federal Sleuths Seize Small Quantity of Liquors.

Federal officers, assisted by members of the dry squad of the Oakland police department, made three raids last night in which two women and four men were arrested for violating the national prohibition act.

When the federal officers served the search warrant on Joe Roban, owner of a soft-drink parlor at 503 Bush street, he attempted to stop them from entering the place. One of the officers pushed Roban to one side and a short struggle between the two men followed. Roban, his wife, Mary Roban, and Jess Hardey were charged with violating the dry act.

Hardey was arrested in the flat above the soft drink parlor, which the police say is also conducted as an "upstairs parlor" by Roban. Five bottles of liquors were seized.

A five-gallon still and eighteen bottles of liquor were confiscated when the officers raided the home of George Skarich, 1489 Seventh street, Skarich and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Skarich were arrested.

The Tabari, proprietor of a soft drink parlor at 501 Jefferson street, was arrested on a similar charge. Four bottles of wine were seized.

Man Jilted 20 Years Ago Blames City; Files $50,000 Suit

CHICAGO, March 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—More than 20 years ago, Eric Nordstrom lost his sweetheart and sued the city of Chicago for damages. Today another suit for $50,000, an outgrowth of the old case, was recorded in Nordstrom's name against the city.

Back in the early nineties, Mathilde Svenson, a beautiful Scandinavian maiden, came to the United States. Eric loved her. His suit was lost, he alleged, when a city detective circulated false stories about him.

Nordstrom sued the detective and the city for $25,000. G. B. Swift, then mayor, agreed to pay the sum if the suit were dropped. Nordstrom claimed, but never did, in 1914 Eric again sued the city. This time for $48,000, but nothing came of it, and now he has sued again. Mathilde long since faded from the picture.

CHILDREN THROG U. C. HALL TO HEAR HERTZ SYMPHONY

Youthful Audience Sits in Rapt Attention as Musical Treat Is Offered.

Alfred Hertz and his San Francisco Symphony orchestra may win the plaudits of audiences much better versed in things musical but he will never have a heartier reception for his offerings than he received yesterday.

The occasion was the first of the young people's concert series at the Harmon Gymnasium at University of California, which was literally and figuratively filled to overflowing with school children from Berkeley and environs who drank in the symphony music enraptured.

The Harmon Gymnasium has a seating capacity of about 1900 and there were in the neighborhood of 400 more children packed into the auditorium. Every square inch of space between the proscenium arch and the back of the gallery was filled with anxious humanity.

For many weeks the children of Berkeley schools have been preparing themselves for the first of the concert series. They have listened to phonograph records of the musical numbers on the program and they have listened to solos of the orchestra.

This was done by the teachers in order that the children might be absolutely familiar with the several instruments and learn the total qualities of all.

Therefore it was a crowd of young people highly familiar with the concert program and the orchestra that packed into the Harmon Gymnasium yesterday and had the time of their lives.

The program opened with the overture to William Tell and at its conclusion the house roared with the plaudits of little hands and screams of delight came from all sections of the auditorium.

It was a great day for the children and it was a great day for Alfred Hertz and his organization. The music played yesterday with the technique and nerve new to them. Hertz waved the baton with precision and vigor catching the spirit of the affair and responding splendidly.

The next offering consisted of two movements from Beethoven's first symphony and this was again greeted by the children with intelligent applause. They seemed to understand the difficult number thoroughly.

Tschalkovsky's "Nutcracker Suite," light and dainty, met with the riotous approval of the youngsters and Schubert's great swinging "Marche Militaire" concluded a brief but brilliant program.

Throughout the program the children watched Hertz and sat with rapt attention. There was nothing to distract the musicians.

Most enraptured of all, however, was little Martha Downing of 2815 Ashby street, Berkeley. She was so attentive that she attracted the attention of A. W. Widenham, business manager of the orchestra.

"I was standing there in the rear of the house simply marveling at the reception these youngsters were giving the orchestra," said Widenham, "and then I noticed the most intelligent of all."

Throughout the performance I watched her and she never so much as flicked an eyelash at the wrong time. It was a treat to watch her. After the performance as a reward I agreed to send her tickets to every concert next season. She certainly deserved the prize, although she did not know she was earning one."

The purpose of the young people's

Proof of Child's Birth Is Demanded, But Ex-Wife Says Child Is in San Diego.

Although the unraveling of tangles concerning the support of minor children by ex-husbands is the particular specialty of Deputy District Attorney "Jim" Walsh, he threw up his hands in despair today.

"What are you going to do when the man says he's perfectly willing to support the child, but the woman can't prove that there is one?" he demanded of the universe in general.

Mrs. Irene O'Laughlin went to Walsh's office in the court house today demanding that Gavin Wilson, her former husband, be made to contribute to the support of a child which, she declared, was born last October, several months after their separation. Wilson, who is an employee of the Pullman company at Richmond, faces his former wife in Walsh's office. "Sure I'll support my child, if there is one," he declared. "But I've never seen it, or received any proof that it exists."

"Then why don't you prove the child's existence by bringing it here?" Walsh asked Mrs. O'Laughlin.

"I can't," she admitted, bursting into tears. "It's being cared for by a woman in San Diego, and I haven't the money to go and get it."

Mrs. O'Laughlin demanded that Wilson give her the money necessary to bring the child here. Wilson objected that he had no reason to give her any money until he had seen the child. Walsh shook his head.

Wilson's marriage to Mrs. O'Laughlin was annulled last year, and she has since married a former husband, O'Laughlin, living at the time she married.

This has brought about a further complication. In her anger at Wilson for annulling their marriage, Mrs. O'Laughlin said, she refused to register the child's birth under his name, but gave it the name of Thelma Rose Martin. So it does not show on the birth records as a child of Wilson's.

"Can't you take my word for it?" wept Mrs. O'Laughlin, appealing to Walsh. Here a new difficulty arose. "I'd be only too glad to take your word for it," declared Walsh, "but you have already perjured yourself by swearing to the marriage license clerk that you had never been married before, when you married Wilson. So we've got to have proof."

And Mrs. O'Laughlin can't produce the proof, she says, unless Wilson gives her the money, and Wilson won't give her the money, he says, until she produces the proof. "And there you are!" says Walsh. "What can you do in a case like that?"

concerns series, according to William Edwin Chamberlain, manager of the series, is to educate as well as to entertain.

"It is with this educative value in mind that the school teachers give such noble co-operation," said Chamberlain. "It would be useless to attempt to secure the attention of little children to the best in music were they not educated to the best."

"According to our system they become familiar with all parts of the program from the history of the composers to the construction of the instruments used in the orchestra long before the concert is actually given. If the older people followed the example of the children how much more they would get out of a symphony concert."

"As a sample of what the children can do, the Lincoln school modeled in clay, a model of the Greek Theater, with Mr. Hertz and his full orchestra on the stage. It was splendid."

This introductory concert of the current season will be followed by other musical treats. On April 6 at Trio Moderne will give the second event of the season and on May 2 the San Francisco Chamber Music society will provide the concert.

Infant Falls in Pool And Spoils Thrilling Rescue by Swimming

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Velma Anderson, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Anderson of El Verta district, spoiled a perfectly thrilling rescue for the family today by falling into a pond, three feet deep, near her home and then tranquilly swimming nearly half way across it before her astonished mother could wade in and carry her out.

Velma was playing with her 4-year-old sister, Ruth, when she slipped and tumbled into the pool. After the first surprised gurgle she took to it like the proverbial duck. She kicked her little legs vigorously and swung her arms, so that instead of sinking she remained on top.

"Goow goo! Da! da!" she yelled, which, when translated, probably meant "Why didn't you let me finish it?"

Second Wife No Excuse For Cut in Alimony

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 28.—A second marriage by a divorced man is no excuse for a cut in the alimony awarded the first wife.

This is the effect, was the decision of Supreme Court Justice Tompkins today in denying a petition of Lawrence R. Beatty, a broker, to have the alimony of $150 a month he had been ordered to pay to his first wife reduced to $50 a month because he had another wife.

Justice Tompkins has been made almost sick worrying about this alimony question," his counsel pleaded.

"I wouldn't have to worry so much now if he hadn't married again," Justice Tompkins replied.

Kitchen Freedom Is Reflected in Flapper

CHICAGO, March 28.—How bakeries have contributed to the development of the modern "flapper" was discussed by George E. Dean, Albion, president of the Bakery Equipment Manufacturers association, at a meeting of that organization here today.

"Relief from the long training course necessary to make a good bread baker and housewife has enabled our girls to interest themselves in esthetics, artistic self-expression and the cultivation of individual beauty and charm," he declared.

"Nowadays 60 per cent of the bread consumed in the United States is baked in the bakeries. The product is cheaper and better than the old-fashioned kind, so there isn't any necessity for a girl learning to bake. She can spend the time the kitchen used to require doing the things the flapper likes to do."

5000 Vacant Flats Are Listed in Chicago

CHICAGO, March 28.—There are 5000 vacant flats now in Chicago and by June 1 that number will be doubled, says M. S. Walsh, secretary of the Tenants' League. The reason, he says, is that prices are too high.

"Landlords are asking anywhere from $15 to $250 a month for them and people can't pay," declares Walsh. "Try and get a flat where you'd like to live for $50. You can't do it."

A prominent member of the Chicago Real Estate Board both agrees and dissents.

"There are probably more than 5000 vacant flats," he says, "although I have no actual figures, but there will be fewer by June 1, rather than more."

The real estate man agrees with Walsh in that a man who could afford only $50 a month for rent was "up against it."

WATERFRONT WAR OVER TIDELANDS IN TRUCE STAGE

Fence Is Torn Down by City, But Squatters Claim Rights.

The war is over.

This applies to yesterday's war on the waterfront, where the Bee Line Transfer company put up a fence on property which is disputed by the city and the Samuel Merritt estate, and city employees tore down the fence on the ground that the transfer company has no right on the ground except by sufferance.

Today the fence was still down and no further moves were made by the transfer company, according to the department officials, who say they have heard nothing further on the subject.

"Unless the transfer company comes in with an injunction," says Ralph York of the harbor department, "there is nothing further to it. The incident is closed."

The Bee Line Transfer company, however, claimed yesterday that it had occupied these tidelands under question for twenty years and has some rights in the matter. Acting on these alleged rights, it built a fence around its supposed property. The fence, which implied ownership, aroused the wrath of the city officials and it was torn down.

MAGGABEES MAY MEET IN OAKLAND

Five thousand members of the order of Maggabees who are coming to the coast next year may make Oakland the scene of one of their gatherings. Miss Bina West, supreme commander, in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce, holds out this prospect.

She writes, in part, as follows: "We have received so many fine invitations that it has been rather difficult to select our points, but in view of the message from your local Chamber of Commerce and the many attractions and facilities Oakland has to offer as a convention city, we shall hope to have at least one meeting there."

"We are planning a progressive convention, which means that we shall call sessions in several cities along the coast, and in developing our plans we shall endeavor to include Oakland on our schedule. I remember my former visits to Oakland with a great deal of pleasure and interest, and I am sure our delegates would enjoy your city very much indeed. The matter is now being referred to our board of trustees and I know they too will appreciate the invitation from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce."

TREATY OF COAST UNITY SIGNED BY OAKLAND AD CLUB

Document, Elaborately Lettered, Pledges Pacific Cities to Cooperative Effort.

"The Treaty of Unity," providing for a harmony of community interests up and down the Pacific Coast, was formally adopted by the Oakland Advertising Club at its luncheon today.

The agreement was presented by Rollin C. Ayres, president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs' Association, and author of the document.

The "treaty" is written on sheepskin parchment and is elegantly hand-lettered. It bears the signatures of the officers of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs' Association and the names of the presidents of each advertising club, member of the association.

The preamble to the agreement sets forth:

"Fully conscious of the splendor of the future that lies before a united Pacific Coast and recognizing, as citizens of the West, our stewardship and our responsibility, we, the peoples of the Pacific Coast, through various organizations giving concrete voice to our sentiments, do hereby enter into this agreement, the Treaty of Unity, and declare that it is our purpose steadfastly to adhere to the principles set forth in this treaty as a document of purpose and progress for our great western empire."

MINERS WILL BE IDLE SATURDAY, SAYS UNION HEAD

Lewis Expected to Telegraph
Strike Instructions to the Workers Tomorrow.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 23 (By International News Service).—Every union coal mine in the country, as well as many non-union fields, will be idle on next Saturday morning, President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers told the International News Service here today.

"Everything is status quo in regard to the strike situation," Lewis declared. "We not only have the assurance of our own men, but many non-union miners will join us in the walkout."

ORDERS EXPECTED.
INDIANAPOLIS, March 23 (By International News Service).—Telegraphic orders, precipitating what promises to be the greatest industrial tieup in history, probably will be sent from headquarters of the United Mine Workers tomorrow, it was learned today.

John L. Lewis, president of the Miners' Union, is expected to arrive in Indianapolis tomorrow from his home in Springfield, Ill., and telegraphic instructions to the more than half a million union coal workers to drop their tools Friday midnight likely will follow immediately, it was stated at headquarters. Formal call for a nationwide suspension of mining operations already has gone out by mail.

SITUATION CRITICAL.
Here is the situation that prevails with the strike now distant by only a matter of hours:

1. Hard coal miners and operators meeting in New York for an eleventh-hour attempt to stave off the tremendous walkout.
2. Longshoremen refusing to unload imported coal, looked to counteract the domestic shortage.
3. Railroad unions promising "moral" support—but not financial aid nor a sympathetic strike—for the striking miners.
4. Efforts being made to align the 200,000 non-union miners of the United States with union workers.
5. Frank Farrington, head of Illinois miners, meeting with operators in Chicago today with a view possibly to "separate peace."

LEGAL ACTION.
DENVER, March 23.—District attorneys in Colorado counties where coal mines are located have been asked to start criminal proceedings against all miners in their counties who quit work April 1, without giving 30 days' notice of intention to do so, as required by a State law, according to William L. Reilly, a member of the State Industrial Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Pacific Coast States in the event of a prolonged coal strike could obtain some relief from the navy's Chickaloon coal field in Alaska, it was said today at the Bureau of Mines.

W. J. Adams Is Surprised to Learn He Is in San Diego; Now En Route to Home.

W. J. Adams, deputy county recorder in this city, has been taken in charge by the police of San Diego following an attack of amnesia with which he is believed to have been seized last Friday.

On Friday Adams went to G. W. Bacon, county recorder and requested a three-day leave, explaining that he had some business to transact. Bacon agreed.

Last night Adams walked out of a motion picture theater in San Diego and inquired his way of a pedestrian. He then expressed astonishment that he was not in Oakland.

He was turned over to the city detectives, who endeavored to establish his identity. A search of his pockets disclosed a hotel key and further investigation developed that he came from this city.

"I know very little about the man except that he is a splendid worker," said Bacon today. "He was attached to the British army during the war, and although he never mentioned wounds or gas, he saw continued service."

"He lives with his wife and two children at 225 Eleventh avenue. I think this attack of amnesia must be a result of his injuries or experiences during the war."

According to advices from San Diego, Adams has recovered his automobile and has left for this city. He told the police that the last thing he remembers is taking his wife to a lodge meeting here.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan county, Iowa, who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:
"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Burbo Compound and 1/2 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp, is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."—Advertisement.

MAN IS CAUGHT ROBBING GROCER, HELD BY POLICE

Unemployed Rigger Holds Up Japanese, But Fails to See Officer Approach.

Bert Larkin, an unemployed rigger, was arrested in the grocery store of Frank S. Eno, a Japanese, while in the act of robbing him of the day's receipts. The holdup man was arrested by Special Policeman P. C. Ranscher, who happened to be passing the store.
The officer drew his revolver, walked into the store and commanded the holdup man, who was armed and masked, to "throw up his hands." The bandit, obeyed the command without a struggle.

Jewell Makes Plea For Shop Crafts

CHICAGO, March 28.—The business concern which cannot meet its fixed charges is bankrupt; failure to provide a healthful standard of living for his family—a working man's fixed charge—means eventual physical and moral bankruptcy to the nation. This was the axiom on which B. M. Jewell, head of the shop craftsmen, based his plea for a living wage for the nation's rail workers today before the United States Railroad Labor Board.
Figures comparing railroad employees' expenditures for food with minimum requirements for bare subsistence as worked out by Professor M. E. Jaffa, food specialist of the University of California, showed that railroad mechanics in 1921 were able to purchase but 64 per cent of the meat, fish, milk and eggs necessary for maintenance of their families at the lowest level of safety. Jewell said.

Hire Harbor Expert, City Planners Urge

That the services of an expert on harbor development work be secured to co-operate with local interests in plans for the development of Oakland harbor, was advocated yesterday at the initial meeting of the City Planning Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.
The present condition of the Oakland harbor front was described as "the product of haphazard growth" by W. R. Yelland, chairman of the committee. Different speakers also emphasized the fact that Oakland's great need is the development of modern rapid transit to connect Oakland with neighboring communities.

MYSTERY ENEMY SLAYS ANIMALS

SAN JOSE, March 28.—Sheriff's officers of Santa Clara county are today endeavoring to unravel the mystery surrounding the cold-blooded slaying of four steers, property of S. E. Roberts, rancher of the San Felipe valley, some time during last night. Report of the malicious act was received by Sheriff George W. Lyle this morning, and indications pointed to spite work against Roberts, rising early today to go about his ranch work, found the four dead animals in a corral some distance from his house. Each of the

Landru's Children Change Their Names

PARIS, March 28.—Henri Despre Landru, guillotined February 25 for the murder of ten women and a boy, lost his name when he lost his head. The man who ascended those who watched his trial by his remarkable desire for publicity is buried in an unmarked grave, where his daughter and two sons have been authorized, at their request, to place a small cross marked only "Henri-Despre."
The children have also asked authority to change their names to Remy. Animals had had its throat slit with a sharp knife and had bled to death. The rancher was unable to give any clue as to personal enemies who he might believe to be responsible. He said he had had no quarrels and knew of no reason for the act. The animals were not insured.

DRIVER INDICTED IN KERN ATTACK

BAKERSFIELD, March 28.—The Kern county grand jury late yesterday returned two indictments against W. M. Pickens, charged in connection with an attack on Clyde Richey, taxi driver, by four men wearing black robes with hoods and masks. One indictment charged assault and the other robbery. It is alleged that the robes were found in Pickens' automobile last Thursday night just after the attack.

Chief of Police Charles H. Stone said that he did not believe the assault made on Richey was made by members of the Ku Klux Klan, or any other organized band in Bakersfield. This was the belief also of District Attorney J. R. Dorsey and other authorities, but it was said that Pickens would be questioned further to determine if he had any connection with the Klan.

Richey, who swore that it was Pickens' car in which the men made their escape, swore he identified Pickens from a leather puttee, which he said was visible from beneath the hem of a black robe.

Pickens remained firm in his statements that he had nothing to do with the assault.

PRISON ESCAPE EXTRADITED.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 28.—Governor Charles R. Mabey today granted the request of California authorities for the extradition of Mod Shulman from Ogden to San Quentin penitentiary, from which penal institution he is declared to have escaped recently. Shulman arrested in Ogden on a minor charge was serving a sentence of from one to ten years at San Quentin for larceny, according to officers.

HUBBY JEALOUS OF AUTOMOBILE, WIFE CHARGES

Mrs. Cora Blanche Cole was granted an interlocutory divorce decree by Superior Judge Harris today upon testimony that her husband had become bitterly jealous of their automobile, and had constantly nagged her with the accusation that she cared more for the car than she did for him.

Mrs. Cole said that her husband unjustly charged her with neglecting her dishwashing to tinker with the automobile, and that he had constantly complained that instead of getting a wife he had married a mechanic. After eighteen years of married life, she said, his complaining finally became unbearable, and she left him two years ago.

Judge Asks Public To Protect Minors

An appeal to the general public to report all known cases of bootleggers' selling liquor to minors, was made today by Superior Judge E. C. Robinson, who is in charge of the juvenile department.

"This offense is becoming more and more frequent," Judge Robinson said today, "as the result of the secrecy with which the sale of liquor is now conducted, and the irresponsibility of the persons engaged in the traffic. It is the duty of every citizen who knows of a case of this kind, to report it at once to the authorities."

ATHLETIC FILM PLANNED.

The California Mermaids Club, the new athletic organization in this city, is making plans for filming a play in which all branches of athletics will be shown. ## NAVAL OFFICER AWARDED DIVORCE

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—Captain William D. Brotherton, assistant commandant of the Eleventh Naval District, is divorced in a decree on file in the superior court here today. Cruelty is the charge that won the decree.

Captain Brotherton accused his wife, Alys Wood Brotherton, with infidelity, naming Patrick Tully, her former husband, and introducing the testimony of private detectives to support the charge.

Judge S. M. Marsh exonerated the wife from the charge of infidelity, scored the activities of the detectives, "who," he said, "are no more than paid witnesses."

"The captain fell in love with a girl," he said, "and the girl fell in love with the captain. I have no sympathy for either, for they have both been married before and are old enough to know their own minds."

Morrin Says Mexico Will Need U. S. Labor

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—While Mexico of today has nothing to offer the American workman, the Mexico of tomorrow will be a "golden land" for labor, according to R. J. Morrin.

Morrin, president of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was in San Francisco today, after having completed a three weeks' visit to Mexico, during which time he conferred with labor leaders.

"Mexico looks to the American Federation of Labor to aid her in her efforts to obtain recognition," he said, "for not until Mexico is recognized by the United States can the country prosper."

"There is considerable unemployment in Mexico now. For the American there are no opportunities whatever at present."

POISONED BY MISTAKE.
PORTLAND, Ore., March 28.—George Miller, colored, chef on the steamer Edward Luckenbach, died from the effects of poison administered through mistake here Sunday, according to findings made by the coroner yesterday. Miller was taken ill, according to evidence adduced by the coroner, and asked the steward for a box of poison resembling salts and administered a dose to Miller, who died shortly afterwards. Astronomers say there are no less than 3,000,000,000 stars, of which ours is only one of the lesser grades.

Platonic Love of Famous Screen Stars Ends in Thrilling Climax

WALLACE REID and ELSIE FERGUSON have beautiful love romance in "Forever," the infinitely charming screen adaptation of "Peter Ibbetson" at the New Franklin. HANS HANKE, big favorite, in final week.

SEVEN STARS depict the sweetest love story of literature.

What "Peter Ibbetson" was to literature, "Forever," the screen version of it, is to the screen. For pure beauty—beauty of thought, action, dress and background, there are few photoplays which can compare with this tense romance. It stands head and shoulders above the average picture, not only because of its unusual thrilling story, but also because of the brilliant cast of screen celebrities who portray the characters. Wallace Reid as Peter Ibbetson never has done such magnificent acting in his career. Elsie Ferguson as the charming duchess was never more beautiful and ethereal, while Elliott Dexter, Dolores Cassinelli, Montagu Love and George Pawcett form a splendid support. Hans Hanke, an aided feature to the brilliant program, plays the Second Rhapsody and the Sextet from Lucia, the latter with his left hand alone. Advertisement.

SCROPTIMIST CLUB FAVORS PURCHASE OF REDWOOD PEAK

Business Women Will Give Dinner for Berkeley Organizations.

Endorsement of the proposal to purchase the redwood groves within the city limits of Oakland for a municipal park was given yesterday at a business session of the Scroptimist club at Hotel Oakland. The desirability of acquiring the acreage for public use and in the interest of conservation of one of the unique groves of the coast was set forth in resolutions addressed to the city council and the park board. The Scroptimist club is among the first of the women's organizations to extend the hospitality of the regular Monday luncheons to women who are strangers within the city. Mrs. Sue Ballar is chairman of a committee which surveys the hotel registers each week in search of visitors to whom an invitation for the Monday program is formally extended as a part of a booster scheme for Oakland. The plan was suggested by Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustafson, chairman of civics, Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs. A "Berkeley Day" will be celebrated next week, when the Scroptimist club entertains the Rotary, Lions and other business organizations of the college town at a dinner at Hotel Whitecourt. The Berkeley members of the club are in charge of the program. Miss Violet Richardson will preside.

Memorial Grove Is Favored by W. R. C.

Acquisition of Redwood Peak by the city of Oakland as a memorial grove and park to world war veterans was endorsed by Appomattox Relief Corps, No. 5, W. R. C., in resolutions adopted at the March business meeting. Adopting the suggestion of the Pioneer Women of Oakland that the grove of Semper Virens be preserved in honor of the Oakland service men, the patriotic organization has joined with other clubs and societies of the city in petitioning the city council and park board to make provision for the purchase of the large acreage. Mrs. Annette J. Hooper is president of the corps, Mrs. Kate Hogan its secretary.

Havana May Have Prohibition Bureau

HAVANA, March 28.—The establishment of a bureau in Havana by American prohibition enforcement authorities probably will be recommended by Colonel L. C. Nutt, who with six internal revenue agents, arrived here Saturday night. It is said the visit of Colonel Nutt is connected with a proposed drive by the American authorities against alleged shipments from Cuba of liquor and narcotics. On the completion of the inquiry here it is said Colonel Nutt and his aides will visit other islands of the West Indies, particularly the Bahamas.

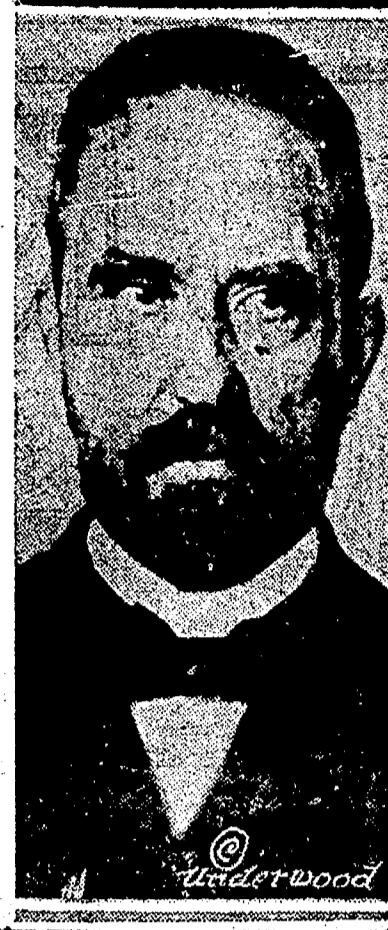

Pirates Raid Yacht

ALAMEDA, March 28.—Estuary pirates raided the yacht Carrie L. owned by R. B. Tappen, 1332 Park street, last night. The thieves stole a number of car locks and several oars. The theft was reported to the police.

Fish Price Drops

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Prices paid fishermen for barracuda, sea bass and halibut dropped to 2 cents a pound for the first time in six months because of an unprecedented run of these fish off the Southern California coast.

Stinnes' Pacific Freight Service Will Start Soon

HUGO STINNES, Germany's king of finance, who is planning Hamburg-San Francisco line of fast freighters.

Three Vessels Nearing Completion for Run Between S. F. and Europe.

Hugo Stinnes, Germany's king of finance, is preparing to invade the Pacific with a line of fast freighters. The news of the newest coup of the famous German became known today in the announcement that regular service between German and other European ports and San Francisco is planned. Already three fast freighters of 12,000 tons are rapidly nearing completion. They have been christened the General Ludendorff, Admiral von Tirpitz and General von Buelow. Reports of the development of the new line were given along the waterfront today by officers of a steamer arriving here direct from Hamburg, who received their information from one of the Stinnes' officials. Stinnes is credited with controlling the industries and finances of Germany, with almost unbelievable power. He owns mines, factories, steamships and even newspapers by the score. Since the end of the war he has been at work restoring Germany's commercial system. As a result of his activity there is little or no unemployment in Germany, according to the reports. In addition to the Stinnes line of vessels, it is understood by the steamship men that the Cosmos line, another German interest, is planning a service extending out of Germany to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and thence to the Hawaiian Islands.

Motorcyclists Hit S. P. Train; Injured

BERKELEY, March 28.—William Olenius, 20, 1235 Ashby avenue, and Lester Burt, 20, 938 Bancroft way, were injured late yesterday afternoon when a motorcycle they were riding was struck by a Southern Pacific electric train at Ninth and Snyder streets. Both were treated at the Emergency hospital for abrasions. Valuable new drug plants have been found by explorers in the Amazon river basin.

FIREMEN RESCUE EIGHT AT NIGHT AS HOUSE BURNS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Four adults and four children, cut off from escape by smoke and flames, which enveloped the residence of W. D. Kaufmann, a druggist of 276 Parnassus avenue, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, were rescued by a squad of firemen under the direction of Battalion Chief J. E. Gavin. With no time to dress and with their home apparently doomed to destruction, the occupants of the two-story structure gathered at an upper window facing the street, when the fire apparatus arrived. Ladders were stretched and Chief Gavin, Captain Stewart of Engine No. 2, Lieutenant Taylor of Chemical 5, Lieutenant Enright of Engine No. 4 and Operator Franchi began the work of rescue. Those rescued and taken into the homes of neighbors were: Kaufmann and his wife and their children, Adrienne, aged 7; Anna, 5, and Norma, 5. Mrs. Rose Evans and her one-year-old baby, Elmer. Mrs. E. Wideman. During the progress of the blaze and while endeavoring to make his way to the second floor before the rescue of the occupants, Fireman Joseph Graham was overpowered by smoke and had to be removed to the Park Emergency hospital.

Suction Plates Never Drop

Greater Comfort For Persons Who Wear Artificial Teeth
One of the worst features of the old-style rubber plate is the lack of suction to hold it firmly in the mouth while you are talking or eating. All this annoyance can now be avoided, thanks to the dental genius who perfected the new Everitt Suction Plate. With a set of these teeth in your mouth, you can bite and chew naturally, without causing them to wobble or drop out of place. The little cup-like suction maintains a vacuum grip on the roof of the mouth, holding the plate firmly at all times. Although the Everitt Suction Plate costs more to produce than the ordinary kind, you can get one made by the Dr. R. C. Anderson System of Dependable Dentistry for only $15. This price is less than most dentists charge for a very plain rubber plate. Not only is the Everitt Suction Plate superior, but the Tru-Ty Teeth used on it are of the very best quality known to dental science. Dr. R. C. Anderson's office is located at 1225 Broadway, corner 13th st. over the Owl Drug Store. Call this week, without fail, and have the impression taken for your plate. No charge for examination. Hours: 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Activities of WOMEN

Governor to Be Honor Guest at Club's Meeting

By EDNA B. KINARD.
Governor William D. Stephens will be the special guest of honor at an impromptu 3 o'clock tea at which Park Boulevard Woman's Club will entertain tomorrow in the clubhouse east of the lake. With a message coming on Sunday that there was an opportunity of entertaining the state's chief executive at the close of the day, Mrs. Albert Carter, president, telegraphed an invitation and energetically set to work to arrange an hour's program. Overnight the plans grew from a simple presentation of the Governor to the tea. A telephone committee pledged forty-eight hours to notifying the members personally of the honor that was to be theirs and to extending the club's hospitality to leaders about the bay. The public, also, is invited to meet the Governor without the formality of cards.

By borrowing from the program which was originally arranged for the regular April meeting on Monday next and calling upon a coterie of musicians who in times past have been generous with their gifts, Mrs. Carter is today announcing that all is in readiness to greet the Governor. "Know Your City—Oakland," is the subject which has been assigned to Miss Edna B. Kinard for an informal talk. A group of musical numbers will introduce the program.

The bill which will be submitted to the people of California in November next, providing a $10,000,000 bond issue in the interests of the ex-servicemen of the state, will lend the principal theme to Governor Stephens' address.

Mrs. Carter will be chairman of the day. In the receiving line with her will be the members of the board of directors. They are: Mrs. E. C. Robinson, Mrs. R. Olcott, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. J. H. Armstrong, Mrs. Charles Hoyt, Mrs. W. A. Seely, Mrs. K. T. Romie, Mrs. J. V. Chow.

Mrs. William Palmer Lucas has been appointed regional director from California to the National League of Women Voters. When the annual convention meets in Baltimore next month, a distinguished delegation from this state will be in attendance. Headed by Mrs. Frank G. Law, state president, the personnel will include Miss Marion Delany, San Francisco, president-elect, Northern Division; Mrs. Parker Mad-dux, president, San Francisco center; Mrs. Lucas, regional director; Mrs. E. J. Mott, San Francisco; Mrs. F. H. Eosen, president, Oakland Civic Center; Mrs. C. A. Huston, Palo Alto. Mrs. Herbert Hoover has been named delegate at large.

August Vollmer, chief of the Berkeley police, will be the speaker at Tuesday, April 4, before the Twentieth Century Club. "The Policeman" is the subject which has been announced for the afternoon's address. Mrs. W. C. L. Beard will be chairman of the day. The program will follow an important business session at which the nominating committee will present its report.

The annual spring luncheon is scheduled for Tuesday, April 18, when presidents of the various clubs about the bay will be included among the guests of honor.

A birthday dinner will assemble Home Club members at a brilliant function on Thursday evening, April 6. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Read will be host and hostess. The program will include a play by the Little Theater Players under the direction of Fredericka Reicher and a program of music by Mrs. William H. Ivie assisted by Mrs. Samuel Davis.

The April luncheon which falls in honor of the presidents of Eboli, Town and Gown, Twentieth Century, Lakeview, Oakland, Adolphian, Mills and College Women's Clubs.

At the informal luncheon of the Social Workers' Association of Alameda County at the Y. W. C. A. tomorrow, Father William Corr, of San Diego will be the guest of honor. He will review for his hostesses the outline of the program for the State Conference of Social Work to be held in San Diego April 25-28. Mrs. Helen A. Nesle is president of the county association. She will preside as chairman tomorrow.

Miss Roeder To Be Bride of Santa Barbaran

The latest of the college and debutante set to surprise her friends and sorority sisters with the announcement of her betrothal is Miss Elisa Roeder, daughter of E. C. Saturday afternoon Miss Roeder gave an informal tea for a group of her closest friends at which the news was also revealed.

Miss Roeder is a member of the graduating class of '22, University of California, and a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Stinson is a son of Mrs. C. G. Stinson of Santa Barbara and attended the Agricultural school at Davis. No date is announced for the wedding.

WEDDING DATE IS CHANGED

Plans for the wedding of Miss Rodolph and Harold Havre have been changed, owing to the fact that the benedict-elect will arrive from the Orient April 10, almost a fortnight earlier than he had expected. The nuptials will now take place April 19 instead of the 25th of the month.

In the interim many affairs will be given for Miss Rodolph. Among the first will be an evening which Miss Elizabeth Moore will give April 15 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton N. Moore, in Crocker Highlands. The Moores have been motoring in the southland for the past fortnight.

RELATIVES OF SOLDIERS ROBBED

LONDON, March 28.—So many fraudulent attempts have been made to collect money from relatives of soldiers reported missing in the great war that the British war office has warned them to be on their guard.

One woman living in London, says the war office, caused to be inserted in German newspapers an advertisement asking for information regarding her son, who was reported as "missing" in 1917. Soon she received a letter from an organization calling itself the "Dead Soldiers' Society," Cologne, stating that it found a clue to her son's whereabouts.

A soldier bearing the same name, so the reply ran, was a patient in a hospital in Southern Russia in May, 1919, suffering from a nervous breakdown. The society, it was added, would at once despatch one of its agents to secure his return if a remittance of £10 was sent to cover traveling expenses.

The mother applied to the war office for particulars which her German correspondent asked for. That office took up the case and discovered, with the aid of the German police, that the "Dead Soldiers' Society" was not reliable for concern and that at the date of inquiry the majority of its members were in prison.

THREE-YEAR BAN ON IMMIGRATION IS ADVOCATED

Period Necessary to Determine U. S. Need of Immigrant, Says Professor.

America needs a three-year ban on immigration, in order to study the entire race problem, and to determine whether more aliens are needed, according to Professor William Kirk of the social economics department of the University of California.

In addressing his classes yesterday, Professor Kirk said: "Eight and a half million people in the United States cannot read newspapers or letters in the American language. And most of them cannot read anything in any language. These illiterates outnumber the population of sixteen of the

Extensive Limestone Deposits Discovered

Within sound of the Mission bells of San Juan Bautista, and on lands once owned by that famous old Mission, one of the finest and most extensive pure limestone deposits in California has been discovered on the Pearce ranch. According to Judge Pearce, pioneer of San Benito county, well known figure in San Francisco and Oakland, the deposit lies on top of a high ridge, and extends roughly 2000 feet, with a width of 150 feet, and a depth that has not yet been determined.

Analysis shows that the deposit is unusually valuable for making cement, and Twohy Brothers, the construction company, who are interested in the property, are now making plans for its exploitation, involving the erection of a cement plant on the property.

Professor Kirk advocates the appointment of a non-partisan board with power to determine the number of aliens to be admitted to the country. He said:

"Race, trade, character and standards of living must all be taken into consideration, looking toward the welfare of America rather than the desire of the alien applicant, or the interest in the different localities."

FACTORY HEAD'S VISIT HERE TO ADVANCE SALES

Prosperity Predicted for This Year Resulting in Many Large Sales.

The entire Buick dealer organization in Northern California is in San Francisco today to welcome to this state H. H. Bassett, president and general manager of the Buick Motor company, and E. T. Strong, sales manager of the same factory.

What the prospects will be for the trade during the present year is one of the messages these two Buick officials will impart to the sales representatives of their line in this part of the United States.

Both Bassett and Strong are optimistic concerning the future of the automobile business and they are particularly impressed with the fact that 1922 is going to be an exceedingly busy one for many of the manufacturers. Such a situation means, of course, that dealers are slated to have a successful period of activity.

PROSPERITY SEEN.

"Every section that we have visited on this tour, particularly in California, there is every indication of a return of prosperity in all lines of business," said Bassett.

"The bankers are counting upon the ranchers and stockmen doing well as a result of the satisfactory rainfall and the heavy fall of snow in the mountains. This naturally insures a bright outlook for business in general, and our Buick dealers expect to ride the waves of prosperity to the most successful Buick year they have ever enjoyed. It is a case of the live merchant keeping on his toes and going after sales, in order to get the business, and from what I see, Buick dealers on the coast can be relied upon to do that most essential thing."

SERVICE IMPORTANT.

In discussing the sales end of the Buick factory, Strong brought out the relation which service has to the sales of automobiles. He said:

"Owners appreciate more than ever before the extent and nature of the dealer service that should accompany the purchase of a motor car. Service has become a consideration of major importance. Within in other days might have been quite incidental to the sale of a car is now a fundamental part of a sale. Not only does the buyer expect a car that is scientifically engineered and efficiently manufactured, but in addition he makes certain that the car will perform satisfactorily under normal use and care and that the organization marketing the car is capable of rendering competent and economical service. In other words, the buyer feels that he should not only get a car mechanically sound, but also the means of safeguarding his investment."

BUILT ORGANIZATION.

"Many years ago our company realized that the time was coming when the availability of competent service would be a matter of concern to the buyer and that the sale would involve more than mechanical excellence, pleasing appearance, as well as features that make for convenience and comfort. The car that would meet with favor would be the one that was properly designed and built and, what is more, safeguarded by a great and co-operative service organization. We have endeavored to build up such an organization, and in part, at least, we have been successful."

Bassett and Strong leave for the Northwest within a day or two accompanied by C. S. Howard, head of the Howard Automobile company, and E. F. Thompson, general manager of the same company.

WOMEN TO SEEK POLITICAL JOBS IN MANY STATES

Feminine Candidates Tell the Reasons for Seeking Places.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 23.—The following women are among those running for Congress this year: Mrs. Ellen Duane Davis of Philadelphia, Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck of Chicago, Mrs. Mary Spencer of Hill Top, Cook county, Illinois; Mrs. Irene Cleveland Buell of Ashland, Neb., and Mrs. A. K. Gault, mayor of St. Peter, Minn. The latter two are sisters.

The Philadelphia candidate seeking the Democratic nomination is a great great granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin, who as a boy excelled in argumentative letters with a friend defending the propriety of educating women and their fitness for education. He explained in his autobiography, however, that he took this advanced stand "perhaps a little for dispute's sake."

These have named, the present candidates encounter an attitude of surprise sometimes, judging from remarks of Mrs. Buell and Mrs. Huck.

TELLS VIEWS.

"It makes me weary to have people expect me to be a freak because I am interested in politics," said Mrs. Buell of Nebraska, who adds, "mother always said I was the most domestic of her four daughters."

Mrs. Huck, who is the daughter of the late Congressman William E. Mason, in a statement to the Women's Press, replies to a young woman's remark, "The nerve of her going into such a big campaign," with the comment that "to be a good Congressman, as she means to be, will require even more nerve."

Mrs. Buell, the "most domestic" of her mother's four daughters, has been city prosecutor of Ashland since 1918, though one mayor tried vainly to discharge her when she persisted in prosecuting his brother.

SISTERS IN RACE.

Mrs. Gault, the Minnesota candidate, is Mrs. Buell's sister. The two have filed papers in accordance with an agreement of long standing between the sisters that if one ran for Congress the other should do likewise. Mrs. Buell says, Mrs. Gault set the example. The Nebraska woman, who classes herself as a Progressive Democrat, adds that their father was the first mayor of the municipality of which Mrs. Gault is now mayor, and that politics runs in the family.

Similarly, Mrs. Huck, Republican, says that common interests with her father and inclination to continue his work led her to file for Congress at-large to fill the vacancy created by his death. She says the fact that she is happily married and the mother of four healthy children influenced party leaders to desire her candidacy. Mrs. Huck's supporters say more than 900 downstate Republican committeemen have endorsed her.

SOLDIER'S WIFE.

Mrs. Spencer, Republican, who has also filed for Congress at-large from Illinois, is a soldier's wife and the mother of two baby girls. She was appointed public guardian of Cook county by Governor Lowden in 1918, and has continued in office to date. She practices law and has had cases in New York, California, Indiana and Kansas. She favors a soldier's bonus, economy in administration and "personal liberty in its broader sense." She says she would vote on the liquor question as the majority of her constituents would, but omits mention of which side she would take.

Mrs. Spencer holds that crime has its source in the development of the child and therefore she favors higher educational standards with reference to character training.

Yale Memorial Bells Ready for Shipment

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 23.—The peal of eight bells to go into the Yale Memorial Tower in the Bixby Memorial Quadrangle at Yale University is being made ready for shipment from Loughborough, England, where it was cast, to this city. On February 17 the peal was hung in Loughborough and the bells were rung for the first time. The peal was rung for the benefit of the Loughborough War Memorial.

N. Y. Success Called Obscene in Chicago

CHICAGO, March 23.—Producers of a theatrical production known as "Ladies Night," by Avery Hopwood, were summoned to appear yesterday before James W. Green, first assistant corporation counsel, and answer complaints that the play was "obscene." The play has been assailed as "unfit for human eyes" by Arthur Brisbane, publisher of the Law and Order League. Representatives of A. H. Woods, producer of the farce, declared that the criticism was unjustified, as the play had run nearly a year in New York, where it was the best of the better class of New Yorkers.

Doctor Is Sued for $10,000 by Couzens

DETROIT, March 23.—Mayor James Couzens today filed a $10,000 damages suit against Dr. William J. Dubois of Grand Rapids. The mayor's charges are in connection with his invitation to Dr. Adolf Lorenz, Austrian orthopedic, to visit Michigan. Dr. Dubois it was alleged, criticized the mayor's action in a circular letter sent to members of the Michigan Medical Society, the members of which divided on the question of inviting Dr. Lorenz to the state.

President Guest at Rotary Convention

WASHINGTON, March 23.—President Harding was the guest last night of the first district convention of the International Rotary Clubs at a local theater. The visiting delegates and their wives were received by Mrs. Harding at the White House in the afternoon.

STARLIGHT

Virginia Fairfax, daughter of the first family of Virginia, rebels against the puritanical rule of her grandfather and, lured by Filibuster, runs away to become a motion picture actress. Arriving in Los Angeles, she meets Gloria Summers, who is in the line of her own friends. They meet Herbert Richardson, a wealthy young man who is also interested in Gloria. Gloria accepts, for herself and Virginia, Herbert Richardson's invitation to a party. Rita and Virginia find that they must leave early. Herbert is exasperated at their departure. Next morning Gloria and Virginia hurry to "over the hill" for Virginia's first job in the movies.

Virginia's First Day in Film

"Looks like we are going to have a close-up. You certainly have caught the director's fancy," said Jack Thompson as Tommy Warner came to me and asked if I could again get that look upon my face.

"If you can, you're a lulu," he smiled.

To my surprise I was able to whip my emotion into the same thrill as I said to myself again: "At last I am a movie star!"

"Cut lights out," commanded the director. Then to Tommy: "Get the little Summers girl on the set." And briskly to the camera man: "Here, Mike, we'll set up here for this shot of Miss Summers in the close-up."

As Gloria passed me she said in a worried tone which showed that her mind was on the unfortunate happening of last night: "I wish this darned thing was over. Can't you and out from some one just where Herbert is?"

Before I could answer she had gone onto the set.

"Oh, Mr. Thompson," I pleaded with my companion, "don't you think that we can find a telephone some place? Gloria has just given me a very important message."

Jack Thompson was torn between a desire to help me and the fact that he knew that he could not leave the set without permission.

I thought a moment and then replied: "It is nearly luncheon time. Don't you think the message will wait until then? It is against the rules to leave without asking."

I sat down, although Gloria kept sending me very wistful glances.

In a moment some one behind me again began talking: "Last night's affair will just finish Herbert Richardson with Gloria Summers."

"But I thought she was with him last night," said another.

"No, she left him after dinner. I like Rita Summers. She has a lot of common sense and I don't take any stock in any of these stories about her. There are a lot of people in this game who are so jealous if a girl gets ahead a little. But I happen to know that Rita has worked hard at her job and is doing all sorts of things to improve her mind when the rest of us were playing around. That is the real reason she has this little part. I am going to take her out of her book."

"Yes, you will—until some one asks you out for a good time," said the other.

"A good time! That doesn't mean anything. A few hours of flirtation and drinking and no one's home brew on if you are lucky, some of the real stuff—and then waking up some morning with the knowledge that you are out of it. It doesn't pay. I have been out with Kitty Dalton a number of times and I knew that she was riding for a fall, but I didn't realize that I was, too. Do you know, though, I might have been in that party last night? Kitty asked me before she asked Dorothy, but fortunately I was asked to rehearse at the Community Theater in a Spanish dance which the manager had heard I did rather well. And do you know that I was almost ready to throw it up at the last moment when Kitty asked me to go with them? Thank the Lord I didn't. I would be in the hospital today instead of here. No more Kitty Dalton and her playmates for mine."

"Rita Summers really looks as if she had been out with them. Good thing she is playing a rather tragic part. Don't think she could smile if she tried."

"Oh, she is in love with Herbert Richardson. That's the reason she looks so black. I would like to see her win out, though what she is going to do with him after she gets him no one knows."

"Lunch, everybody!" broke in the peremptory voice of the director. "Back in forty-five minutes." I turned to see the girl who had stood up so loyally for Rita. I liked her look and I determined to ask Rita who she was.

Rita was so hurried as she joined me that I forgot all about it. She spent her entire luncheon time trying to reach Herbert, but it was impossible. I took her a sandwich, which she ate at the phone.

After lunch I had a taste of that waiting that Rita had told me was the bane of the movie actor's life, for we of the atmosphere sat around all through the long hours and just waited, and waited.

To understand how nerve-racking this is, one must experience it. Although Rita had been working all afternoon, I could see that her nerves were even more frazzled than mine, but I knew it was because of her worry over Herbert Richardson.

"Hurry, Virginia, you are so slow," urged Rita in the dressing room at 5 o'clock that evening as we were taking off our make-up and getting into our street clothes. "Get a move on you, can't you? I have got to find out about the girls at the hospital and get hold of Herbert. If you were ready, probably some man would take us down in his car."

"If I was, I would go on the street with yellow make-up behind my ears, all right," I protested, rather annoyed by her plaint.

"Don't be a fool, Virginia. You will see scores of people with their entire make-up on every night in the street cars."

"Do you want me to be one of them, Rita?" I asked as with more deliberation than ever I wiped the cold cream off my face.

"Oh, don't be stubborn, Virginia. I'm not stubborn. I am just plain slow because I don't know how to be swift. It just seems to stick."

"Forgive me, dear; I didn't mean to bore you, but I am nearly mad."

"You go on, Rita, and I will come later."

"Do you know how to get home?" she asked although jumping at the suggestion.

"Surely I do," I answered, glad to let her go, as I felt that neither of us, nerve tired as we were, was in condition to bear with the other.

Saying nothing more, Rita rushed out, and taking all the time necessary to clean up I reviewed my first day in the movies.

Tomorrow—Virginia Motors with Herbert.

BROKER ACCUSED.

ALAMEDA, March 23.—George W. Allinger, broker and fruit buyer, living at 2033 Santa Clara avenue, was arrested by Policeman Richard Britt, last night, on a complaint of the Sacramento police. Allinger was taken into custody on a charge of having passed a fictitious check. According to the arrested man, it is simply a case of an overdrawn account.

SLIDE KILLS THREE.

BONNERS FERRY, Ind., March 23.—Three men were killed in a rock slide in a railroad cut here yesterday afternoon, during blasting operations in the cut. The men had placed a charge, which failed to move the rock desired. It was loosened, however, and when the men approached, started to slide.

THE WAY I WASH MY CLOTHES

I am old-fashioned enough to believe that while better household machinery and materials have been invented than our grandmothers had, nothing equals their way of doing things.

That is why I always soak my clothes. After sorting them I soak them in Rinso, using enough to make a good sud that will stand up even after the clothes are put in. I let them soak for an hour—or longer if I am busy about other things—for I have discovered that Rinso won't injure them in the least, yet it soaks out more dirt than any other soap.

Then I rinse them. The first rinse water is terribly dirty but every bit of dirt that is soaked out means that much less rubbing. I only rub neckbands, and the like. Every three or four weeks I boil my white things—except flannels, of course—using enough Rinso to get a mild sud.

ROOT SEES PERIL FOR AMERICA IN BEING DISARMED

U. S. Will Suffer Unless Some Military Policy Is Adopted, He Says.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—"Army officers' hearts break with despair when their warnings of peril go unheeded, while America, in times of peace, believes that war can never come again."

This was the statement yesterday of Elihu Root, former secretary of state and war, and American statesman and diplomat, who addressed 350 members of the Association of the Army of the United States at a luncheon in the Fairmont hotel.

"America disarmed will suffer some one stands for a sane military policy," Root warned.

It was the first pointed utterance of the statesman since his arrival in San Francisco.

"Discussion is what makes public opinion in a democracy and public opinion rules the world," Root said. "There must be public opinion regarding a sane military policy and that opinion you are engaged in creating."

"You are working toward the ends that Emory Upton looked forward to forty years ago and which twenty odd years ago I worked to bring about."

"Thirty years ago I knew army officers whose hearts were being eaten out, so to speak, because their far-sightedness was not appreciated. Their ideas carried no weight and there was no way of influencing public opinion. Yet they were the men qualified to speak and to sound the warning. You, gentlemen, are avoiding the mistake and you are considering the matters that ought to be dealt with."

"You are subordinating the minor to the major problems. You are settling your differences among yourselves. You are planning a constructive program and getting ready to accomplish things by being able to go before the President, before Congress and before the country with a united front."

Revenue Department Discussed at Meeting

From congressional sources information was forthcoming last night that the reorganization of the revenue bureau being undertaken by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Dover had not met with the complete approval of Blair, although there had been some 800 changes in the staff of 34,000 employees by the bureau throughout the country since the reorganization was begun.

LOCKED CLASS ROOMS AT U. C. ARE PROTESTED

BERKELEY, March 23.—College students protested today against the practice of the janitors in locking lecture room doors on the outside so that the professors will not be disturbed by late arrivals. In a communication to the "California" members of a class held in California Hall declared that the action was against all fire ordinances and contrary to common sense.

"The peace of mind of the professor who is disturbed by tardy students more valuable than the safety of 500 students," the communication asks. "If fire or accident should occur, the class would be imprisoned, and a stampede would result. It seems that the least that can be provided are locks which may be opened from the inside."

Blossom Fete to Be Held Rain or Shine

SARATOGA, March 23.—Despite reports that weather conditions might interfere, and cause a postponement of the annual Santa Clara Valley Blossom Festival, it was stated positively today by officials in charge of the event that it would be held here Saturday and Sunday without fail.

"Rain or shine, the event will be held per schedule," officials in charge of the festival said today. It was feared that present weather conditions, linked with rumors, would cause people who planned to attend the affair to think that it would be postponed for another week.

WILSON DECLINES POLITICAL TALK

CHICAGO, March 23.—Former President Wilson has declined to discuss current political issues in response to an invitation to do so sent by Palmer D. Edmunds, past commander of a Chicago post of the American Legion and chairman of the service men's organization of the regular Democratic organization. The former president in replying to Edmunds, however, makes the declaration of his belief "that we shall very soon indeed wipe away the ugly record we made in failing to fulfill the objects for which our gallant men fought."

"Certainly service men above all others are qualified to express their devotion of the principles we believe in," says the letter to Edmunds. "It was for those very principles that they offered their lives. For my own part I believe those principles to be in themselves so powerful that no political blindness or iniquity can defeat their triumph. I believe that triumph to be immediately at hand and that we shall very soon indeed wipe away the ugly record we made in failing to fulfill the objects for which our gallant comrades fought."

BLUM TO RECEIVE $100,000 NECKLACE DESPITE PROTEST

Judge Graham Rules Arrival of Baby Girl Makes Title Absolute.

Superior Judge Thomas Graham in San Francisco today removed any technicality which could stand in the way of placing a $100,000 pearl necklace about the neck of the baby girl yesterday born to Mr. and Mrs. James B. Blum at the Merritt hospital.

By the terms of his mother's will Blum was to receive the interest on $200,000 in cash until he was 25 years old, when one-half of the principal became his, but the necklace was not to be turned over to him unless he married within eight years and his wife presented him with a daughter.

Today John C. Altman, counsel for the estate, was in court and was interrogated by Judge Graham as to when the gift should be made. The lawyer expressed the opinion that the will provided that the jewels should not be turned over to the father, James B. Blum, until he had reached the age of 25.

"That is not my interpretation," said the court. "I am ready to sign an order to turn them over at any time."

"I will prepare such an order immediately," replied Altman. "And may I be present when the gift is made?" inquired his honor. Altman acquiesced.

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Confidence that the tariff bill would be reported to the Senate by the finance committee this week was expressed today by Senator Watson, Indiana, a member of the committee, and Senator Curtis of Kansas, assistant Republican leader of the Senate, today on leaving the White House after a conference with President Harding.

The House today put aside all business and adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Lucien W. Harris, Democrat, who died last night in Wichita Falls from the effects of injuries received in an automobile accident. A resolution of condolence was unanimously adopted.

Threats by the navy department to strip the Atlantic seaboard of ships and stations and concentrate them on the Pacific coast if Congress goes ahead with its plans to cut the navy personnel to 65,000, failed to jar the determination of House leaders today that the navy must come down. The navy bill is going through as planned, asserted Representative Pat Kelly, chairman of the appropriations sub-committee, and it will leave Secretary Denby free to place the navy wherever he wants it.

Action on the proposal to loan $5,000,000 to the republic of Liberia for a postal and telegraph system was pending today in the House ways and means committee for two weeks pending the receipt of information from the state and treasury departments as to what uses are to be made of the money. Members of the committee said they were opposed to the principle of any part of the $5,000,000 for the repayment of loans said to have been made to Liberia by private American and British bankers. These loans are said to total $2,000,000.

Objections being made in Congress to the operation of the budget law in the making of appropriations have not disturbed the administration and officials believe that the new budget system should "be given a fair trial." It was stated officially at the White House this afternoon.

WEARY MOTHER ENDS LIFE.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 28.—Mrs. Lavina Howard, 34, dressed the three younger of her five children and started them off to school this morning. Then, worn and weary from the struggle of providing for them, she swallowed poison and sank to the floor. She died a few hours later in a hospital. A year ago she separated from her husband, it was stated.

Fugitive's Creditors Try to Hold Property

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Application to have Joseph J. ### Liquors Valued at $15,000 Are Seized

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Led by C. H. Wheeler, assistant prohibition director, contraband whisky valued at $15,000 was seized yesterday by a squad of prohibition agents in a residence at 340 Oak street. On the same premises was also discovered a printing press, which, the officers say, has for two years turned out imitation "bottled in bond" labels for moonshine whisky.

Harris and Shaffer Taken From State

While attorneys for "Jack" Harris and "Gloomy Gus" Shaffer were planning to delay the departure of the two diamond robbery suspects for St. Paul, Minn., in order to obtain a fifth writ of habeas corpus, Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares secretly whisked them in an automobile to Martinez last night and had them on board an overland train before the members of their legal staff knew they had left the county jail.

This action followed the denial by the Appellate court in San Francisco yesterday of the fourth application for habeas corpus writ made by attorneys for the two men. Immediately after the Appellate court's denial of the writ had been handed down, attorneys for the men attempted to obtain a writ from the Supreme court. The higher court refused to act, however, on the ground that sufficient action had already been taken by the lower courts.

DOPE SUSPECT JAILLED.

Department of Justice Probes Scharlin Case From Mann Act Viewpoint.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Officers of the Department of Justice, acting under the authority of Fred T. Sola, agent for the Department of Justice, today interrogated Miss Mabel Orndorff, who yesterday filed suit for $200,000 damages against Abraham Scharlin, millionaire clubman.

If the story told by Miss Orndorff can be substantiated the Department of Justice officials will investigate to determine whether or not Scharlin has violated the Mann white slave act. According to the young woman, she accompanied the millionaire on trips to Mexico and El Paso. If the movements of the pair can be checked up and it can be established that Scharlin provided the tickets for both and paid the transportation expenses, it was stated by high federal officials that he may be indicted for violating the white slave law.

Albert B. Chase, who was arrested while driving his automobile with one of the front wheels missing, was placed on trial before a jury in superior Judge Church's court today on the charge of driving while intoxicated. According to the arresting officer, Chase had apparently been drinking. Chase asserted that he had broken the wheel off while entering a service station, and was going for another one. He was arrested at Thirteenth and Fallon streets February 3.

She may be indicted for violating the white slave law. Following the interrogation of Miss Orndorff a further inquiry was started by the federal officers. ## PLANE VICTIMS' HOUR OF DEATH INVOLVES ESTATE

Butte Property Rights to Be Settled on Story of the Surviving Pilot.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 28.—On the word of Pilot Robert Moore of the ill-fated seaplane "Miss Miami," will depend the disposition of a vast fortune, it was stated here today.

It is the estate of August J. Butte, vice-president of the Larabee Milling corporation, who, with his young wife, were among the five persons who lost their lives in the wreckage of the plane off Miami, Fla.

If Butte died first, his wife's heirs will obtain her portion of the estate. If Mrs. Butte was first to die, the estate will pass to his heirs.

In letters of administration filed today in probate court, John D. Wendorf, appointed administrator of Mrs. Butte's estate, sets the date of the wife's death as March 24, while he claims Butte died on March 24. Mrs. Butte's heirs are her mother, Mrs. Harriet Traugbar of Watsonville, Calif., and three brothers, Gerald of San Jose, Calif.; Ray of Wilson City, Bahama Islands, and Carl of this city.

Judge Jules E. Guillette of the probate court named Joseph Gummersbach of St. Louis, Butte's brother-in-law by his first marriage, as administrator of his personal estate.

34 vs. 66

Swift's Premium Ham and Swift's Premium Bacon are produced from only the best hogs. Many of the animals we buy do not furnish meat of Premium quality.

Since these are the choice cuts from the best hogs, cured and smoked in the best way, with scientific care and precision, they are naturally in great demand; but these cuts, with the loin from which pork chops come, represent only about 34 per cent of the live animal.

The remaining 66 per cent consists of the cheaper cuts, such as spare ribs, shoulders, trimmings, pigs' feet, lard, etc., and shrinkage in dressing and curing. Shrinkage is equal to one pound in each five, and has no value whatever.

That is why the prices of "Premium" Ham and Bacon and pork loins are higher than the price of the live animal.

Everybody wants them—and yet they are only about one-third of the entire weight. "Premium" Bacon alone is only about 8 per cent.

The great demand for the choicer cuts, and the smaller demand for the cheaper cuts, constitute the reason for the comparatively higher price of the one-third, and the lower price of the other two-thirds. (Some of the lower priced cuts sell at less than the per-pound price of the live animal.)

It is only by utilizing all possible by-products and exercising the utmost skill and efficiency that we are able to average a profit of a fraction of a cent a pound on all our business.

N. B. Some very delicious dishes can be prepared from the cheaper cuts.

MORGAN KEATON TELLS IDEALS OF AMERICAN LEGION

State Adjutant Is Speaker at Weekly Luncheon of Oakland Post.

Morgan Keaton, state adjutant of the American Legion, department of California, was the speaker yesterday at the weekly luncheon of Oakland Post, No. 5.

Keaton gave a general talk, descriptive of the ideals and aspirations of the Legion as an American and ex-service men's organization. "The four fundamental principles upon which the Legion was founded," said Keaton, "are those of justice, fraternity, democracy and loyalty. Never before has an organization with principles like these. The preamble of the Legion constitution is an inspiration, and the legionnaire taking the oath of allegiance to that constitution cannot help but be the best of citizen if he lives up to its principles."

OBSTACLES ENCOUNTERED. That two difficult obstacles have hindered the Legion from carrying out its program of Americanization and other work, was Keaton's contention.

"We found that the first thing which the Legion had to do was to acquaint Congress and the public at large with the plight of the disabled. The sweet bill, providing for adequate compensation and hospitalization, was the result of our efforts. This is a good bill, its administration is efficient, and we intend to watch and see that the bill is administered in the right manner."

Keaton outlined the history and progress of the adjusted compensation bill, which, he said, was the other great obstacle the Legion as an organization had been obliged to face.

Peters, state pure food inspector.

GIRL HAD PAINFUL TIMES

Mothers—Read This Letter and Statement Which Follows

Portland, Indiana.—"I was troubled with irregularity and constipation and would often have to lie down because of the cause of pains. One Sunday my aunt was visiting us and she said her girls took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got well. I said to myself, 'I wonder if she would let me try it.' It is doing me good and I praise it highly. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial."—STELLA NEWTON, R. R. 8, Portland, Indiana.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure her.

CREAM CLEARS A STUFFED-UP HEAD

Instantly Opens Every Air Passage—Clears Throat Too.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, anesthetic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief. Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more yawning or snuffling. Count fifty. All the stuffiness, dryness, struggling, and sneezing is gone. You feel like an advertisement.

THREATENED BY MOB MAN ASKS HAND GRENADES

DALLAS, Tex., March 28. (By Associated Press).—"Can I lay in a stock of hand grenades? I want them in case floggers come around here bothering me. I'm a former service man and know how to use them."

Maury Hughes, district attorney, was asked that question today by telephone. Hughes replied: "Sure, if you can do it conveniently. It might be well to install sledge guns as well."

L. A. Woman Attacked By Store Bandits

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Attacking a woman who refused to obey their slightest commands and holding a prominent physician and the owner of the establishment at bay with leveled pistols, four masked and armed bandits staged a spectacular robbery today when they robbed a drug store belonging to Dr. F. Johnson, West Jefferson street, and escaped with $75.

Dashing to the entrance of the drug store, the four bandits leveled their weapons at Johnson, Dr. F. Johnson, and the woman, as yet unidentified, who was standing at a telephone.

The woman was ordered to drop the telephone and when she hesitated a second was struck in the face by one of the bandits and the telephone knocked from her hands. The bandits then rifled the pockets of Johnson, Dr. Johnson, and the woman. They escaped in an automobile.

VOCATIONAL HIGH TO GIVE CONCERT

More than one hundred students of Vocational High School will take part in the annual spring concert to be given at the Armory, Eleventh and Market streets, on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Every musical organization of the school is represented on the program. The Boys' Glee Club of nearly sixty voices is down for two numbers. The band and orchestra, each numbering more than forty pieces, are also featured, as well as the girls' glee, mixed chorus and smaller groups of musicians, including a student violinist, Fred Goldstein, whose playing gives promise of rare ability.

An interesting feature will be the musical rendition of Joaquin Miller's poem, "Columbus," by a chorus of mixed voices. John Toffoli, of the John Ewing accordion orchestra of San Francisco, will play two accordion solos. Miss Hortense Roberts, violinist, will assist in the cantata given by the girls' glee.

The chorus will be in charge of Miss Lulu G. Merchant, with Mrs. Edgar Bishop as accompanist. Instrumental numbers are under the direction of W. R. Douglas. The complete program follows:

WRANGLER ISLAND.

Information from Washington is to the effect that the government is prepared to set up a vigorous challenge to British ownership of Wrangel Island should the British government seek to make use of such claim as may rest with the act of Vilhjalmur Stefansson in hoisting the British flag on that land last September. It is not yet known whether England will approve the action of Stefansson, but if it does the United States will assert that if Wrangel Island is not to be recognized and respected as Russian territory this country has a stronger claim to it.

Stefansson went to Ottawa two weeks ago to make a personal report of his adventure to Prime Minister King of Canada and has announced his present plan to be to go on to London and report to the Empire government. The party which Stefansson sent to Wrangel Island last September was composed of four white men and as many Eskimos. Three of the party were Americans—E. L. McKnight of McMinnville, Oregon; Frederick Maurer of New Philadelphia, Ohio, and Milton Galle of New Braunfels, Texas. The leader of the party, the only member who knew the real object of the expedition at the outset, was a Canadian, Allan Crawford, a son of Professor Crawford of Toronto University.

There may not be much immediate importance to this act of land-grabbing which Explorer Stefansson has attempted in the name of the British government, either to Great Britain or the United States, although the War Department might attach considerable importance to it as a base for airplane operations in the Arctic region in possible exigencies of the future. But the principle of non-aggression in the Pacific, especially against Russia, will be ruthlessly violated if Stefansson's act is supported by England.

As stated in these columns yesterday Wrangel Island was first definitely known when the Arctic explorer Lieutenant De Long of the American Navy visited it in 1879. The first mention of Wrangel land was in 1821, when Ferdinand Baron Wrangel led an expedition in search of it. It is claimed that Captain Kellett, an English naval officer, discovered it in 1849, when he sailed close to it, but did not go ashore.

The island was visited by Commodore Rogers, U. S. Navy, who commanded the North Pacific Expedition in 1853-4, brought out by Commander Ringgold from Norfolk and reorganized by Commodore Perry at Macao. Perry invaded Ringgold home, who was not able to conduct the expedition in person. Lieutenant De Long was the first to establish that Wrangel Land was an island, but in coasting around it in 1879 he was caught in the ice pack to the north and his ship, the Jeannette, was destroyed. De Long perished the next winter at the mouth of the Lena river.

The relief expedition which was sent to search for the missing Jeannette and the De Long party was really the first to make a thorough examination of the island. That expedition was composed of the ship Corwin, commanded by Captain C. L. Hooper and on which was John Muir, California naturalist and author of "The Cruise of the Corwin"; and the Rodger, commanded by Lieutenant Robert M. Berry, also a Californian. The Corwin sent a boat ashore, in which was Muir, Captain Hooper and Edward W. Nelson, now of the Bureau of Biological Survey at Washington, and the party landed, erected a cairn and left a record of their visit in a bottle, at the same time raising the American flag.

Lieutenant Berry of the Rodgers landed with a party and made a two weeks survey of the island, confirmed the statement in De Long's log that it was an island, and also planted the flag. De Long had named two islands nearby, one the Jeannette for his ship and the other the Bennett, for the financier of his expedition, James Gordon Bennett. It was De Long and the searching expedition that found his body in the Lena river delta which gave the western world most of what it knows of Wrangel Island.

But mere discovery does not give the right of possession unless supported by occupation. After five years the right of discovery lapsed and so since 1886 no foreign nation has had any right of sovereignty over Wrangel Island. It belongs to Russia today. The Russian government was in possession in 1914 and certainly the civilized nations must respect the collapse of power that now afflicts Russia.

The American government should forthwith take action calculated to defeat any land-grabbing schemes of Great Britain regarding this or any other Russian territory. If Russia is disposed willingly to surrender Wrangel Island this country has a stronger claim than that of England. But neither government should take advantage, or permit any other nation to take advantage of Russia in the Pacific area at this time.

NO BIDS FOR SHIPS.

Chairman Lasker of the United States Shipping Board is disappointed over the bids received for the 1470 government merchant ships which the board has to sell. All of the bids, which referred to only about one hundred of the ships, have been rejected. Mr. Lasker says none of the bids received serious consideration. He characterized some of them as facetious.

Now, there are three principal reasons which account for this extreme dullness in the selling market for government ships. One is that there is apparently an inconsiderable amount of capital available for investment in these ships, that is, in the treasuries of companies already established and operating ships of their own.

Another reason is that prospective and potential buyers are waiting to see what Congress will do in regard to the ship subsidy plan. If the subsidy program recommended by the President should be approved, it will be possible for ships to operate under the American flag. Then the government should be able to get a better price for its ships.

The third reason may be that private operators are acting in concert to pull down the price of the government ships to a minimum. Since the government has announced its policy to dispose of the ships they naturally are for sale. Possibly, we do not say certainly, the private operators expect to get them for a nominal figure, a mere song.

It would be an unfortunate development if this last suggestion of a reason for a dead market for ships should prove really accurate and important. And, after all, it might be a wise precaution if the government refrained from wrecking its operating organization entirely. Should there be no reasonable offers for the government ships of approved type and size the shipping board will have to operate them until private business patriotism is capable of fair dealing.

The disturbers are continuing their efforts to throw confusion around the ratification of the four-power Pacific treaty. They claim that, inasmuch as the Senate did not in its vote on the main document include specifically the annex to the treaty, ratification may not be legal. But the annex is a separate treaty in itself. It is signed separately by all the negotiators. And when the procedure of ratification was first brought up in the Senate it was agreed between Senator Lodge, majority leader, and Senators Underwood and Pomerene, Democratic leaders, on the floor of the Senate, that separate votes should be taken. The program will go through. The annex is the reservation that the Japanese mainland is not included in the provisions of the main treaty. It is in effect a reservation in favor of the United States and the opposition that appears henceforth is opposition to this country.

"If I were a dramatist I would tell the plots of my plays to a child under nine years old. If his interest wavered I would despair; if I could hold him wide-eyed I should hope." Moliere chose his cook for such a purpose—be sure she had the child-like mind. It is in the hour before or after bedtime that you will find your critic most receptive. You have in him then a first-night audience, and his "Go on!—what happened then? will be your best applause." Thus writes Mr. W. M. Letts in the April Yale Review. If one would formulate an explanation of the many weak and plotless plays produced by the theatre he may find the kernel of truth in this brief statement.

The governor of Oklahoma might take a trip to Illinois and join in a little mutual condonation with the governor of that State.

MURRAY'S LAW OF CONDUCT.

Professor Gilbert Murray, who is not only Regius Professor of Greek at Oxford (than which there is no higher purely academic distinction) but also a student of practical experience, and a profound thinker of striking originality, has enunciated a creed in his latest book that should appeal deeply to almost all varieties of thoughtful modern men. In the lecture entitled "Religio Grammatici" he states that it is a part of the religion of the scholar to "live and die for the great unknown purpose which the eternal spirit of man seems to be working out upon this earth." It is a saying that will repay the most careful study and attempt toward a full understanding of it.

The scientist who can follow the "religion of evolution," as John Burroughs suggested it, will have no quarrel with this. Neither does it exclude the honorable believer who looks forward, definitely and concretely, to the coming of Christ's kingdom upon earth, and there is room between for well nigh all shades of religious aspiration and cogitation. And yet its generality is not vague, but firm and precise like a formulated natural law.

Rather does this law of Murray's work to link all humankind in one brotherhood. Following various paths, they still tend toward one common goal. The movement that started in forgotten beginnings presses forward toward some intended if not clearly pictured finality.

His, as Professor Murray adds, is "a religion of democracy." For, says he, the "cardinal doctrine of that religion is the right of every human soul to enter, unhindered except by the limitation of its own powers and desires, into the full spiritual heritage of the race." Surely the spirit that aspires to the race's purpose can demand as a tool thereof its share of the spiritual heritage. Surely that which is a race purpose may not be withheld from any member of the race who would participate in it.—New York Sun.

Chicago—Fair tonight and showers.

We are always interested in the editorial paragraphs in the Reading Searchlight. They strike us with so intimate an appeal that, more than once, we have thought they were just such things as we could have written ourselves. Second consideration convinces us we did write them and that the Searchlight has lifted them, six at a time, without the sign of a credit.

Next thing folks will be running for office in Chicago on their record for bravery under fire:

Ab. Yes, But Yes, What?

(From Brentwood News.)

With Nature in all her kaleidoscopic resplendency—bud, bloom and flower, filling the air with their volatile essence, the hum of the bees, the occasional chorus of the birds and the happy memories as the mind, rippling back over years ago, seemed a most fitting time to commemorate the charm of the Golden Anniversary.

The Red Toonerville.

Sir: It never comes but in bunches, trouble doesn't. First of all, we of the Red Toonerville get a new skipper unaccustomed to our ways; then it rains; then the bridge is open oftener than seems absolutely necessary, and then today the crowning blow fell. Hear ye!

The excitable Mr. Exs started down to his ultra-respectable office this morning bearing under his arm a package that had all the earmarks of laundry. Other than the fact that he carried it carefully it would attract no undue attention. Just as Mr. Exs was piloting himself into his accustomed seat the Red Toonerville swished around a curve (the old skipper always took this curve in a decent God-fearing manner) and what did Mr. Exs do but fall down.

Once he lost his equilibrium the tale was told, for in the package that looked like laundry was two bottles of choice and rare liquid refreshment known and designated as claret wine. . . . Mr. Exs, who collects the six beans for Mr. Exs, was annoyed, as was his right, but his annoyance at the odor which was to permeate the highly rarified atmosphere for a couple of trips or so was nothing to the annoyance of Mr. Exs and the annoyance of the neighbors. . . . This is merely to advise the contrabands who can attend the meeting scheduled for tomorrow night that it has been put off for another day, and we will have two more meetings to decide the fate of the new skipper.—W. S.

For the Club.

Shall We Vote on This?

A contrib who has written a soulful love song breaks two rules of the Almanac. One is in rhyming "mind" with "time," and the other is when he would have "whisper" rhyme with "sister." Shall we open the gates to this gentleman or shall we continue the valiant fight for whatever it is we are fighting?

"Slowly but surely we are adding links to the chain of evidence," says a Los Angeles prosecutor. But how many links are there to an Obenchain?

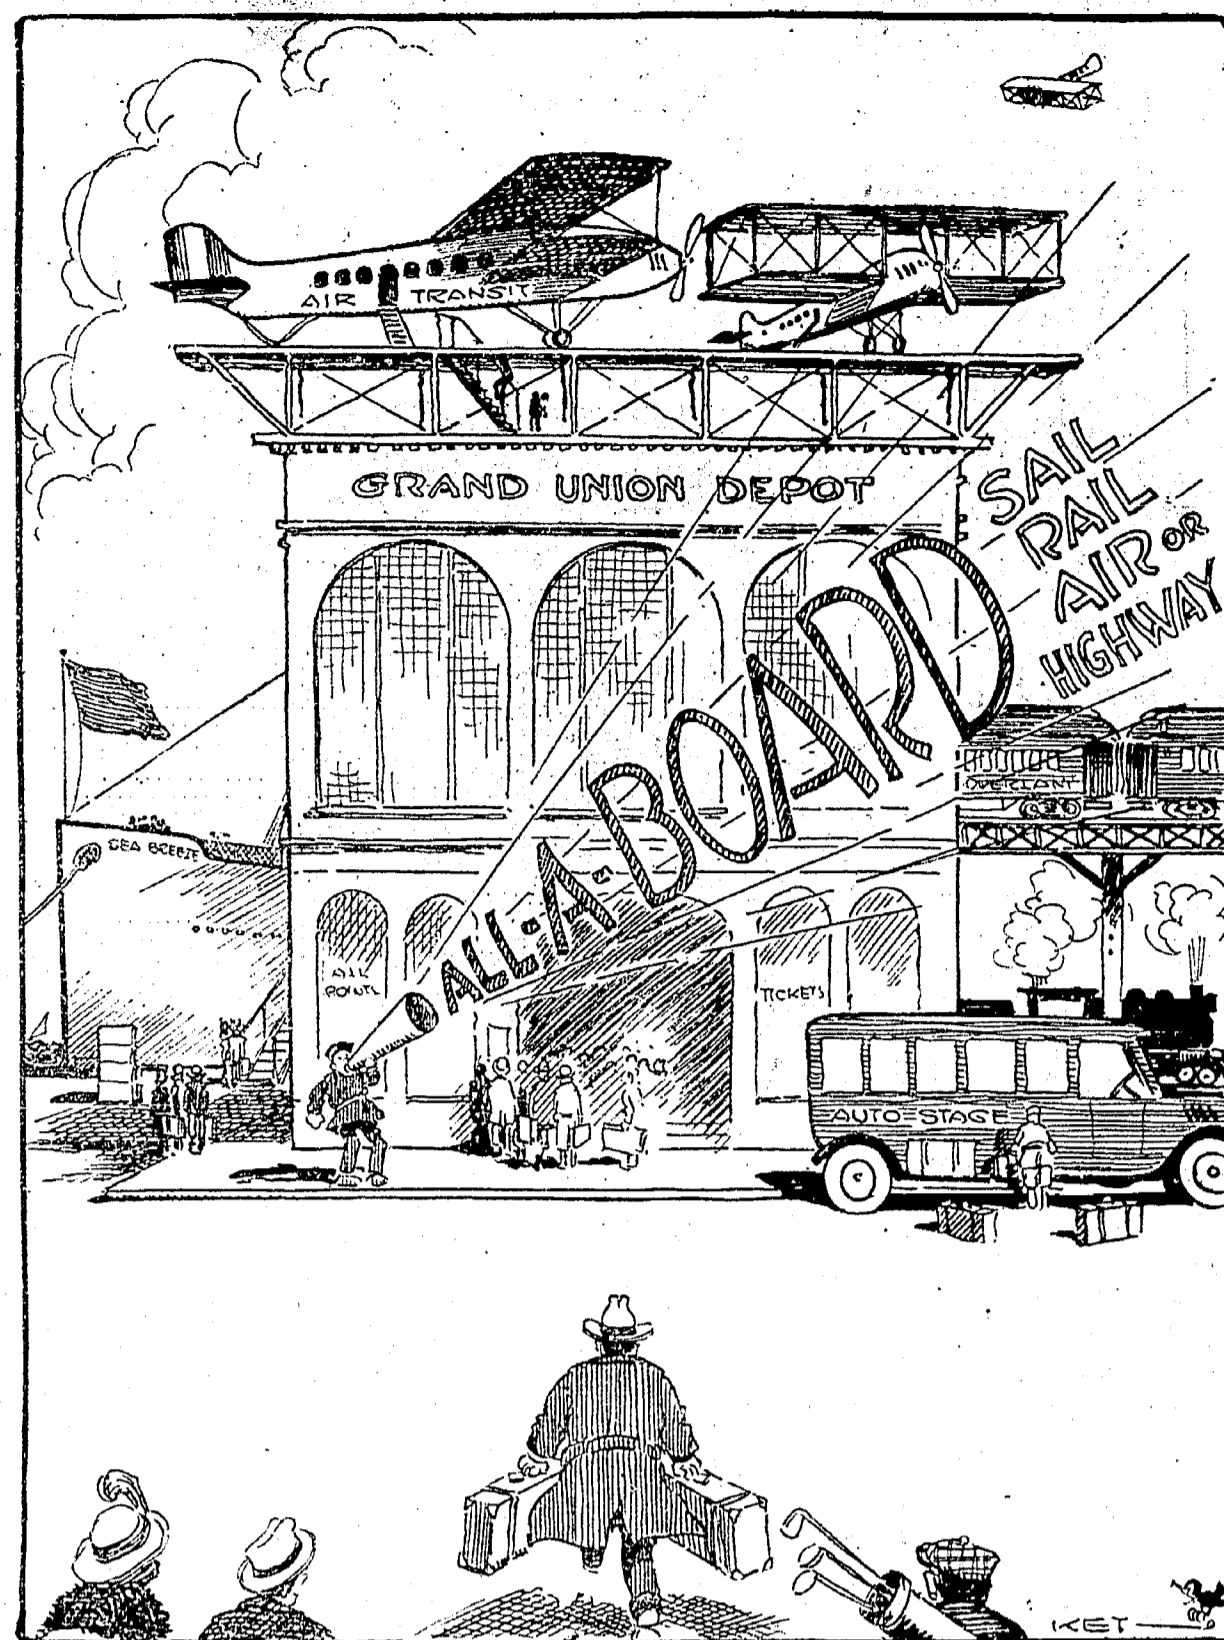

A second attempt was made the other day to get "Jude the Obscure" into the columns of the press. When Jude emerged from the limotype machine he was "Judge" and "Judge the Obscure" he remained. Some day we shall try again.

The Name Club.

It was not long ago a contrib. submitted the names of W. E. Bridgroom and Joe Gotobed of Turlock for membership. The Journal of that city on Tuesday announced that the two are running for place on the board of trustees and any of the Almanacians who may have doubted the veracity of the contrib., may consider themselves confounded.

A contrib writes in to ask if Spoon River is a place for anguile-pupping. —Ad. Schuster.

NOTES and COMMENT

New York Sun on University enrollment: "There will be no little of the East at the claim of the University of California that it is the largest educational institution in the world. Columbia boasts of an enrollment of 32,420, which, it was thought, placed it far ahead of the field; but its Western rival makes the unexpected announcement that its students number no less than 43,266. In each case, apparently, the matter is based entirely upon the enrollment. Business is computed merely by numbers, and numbers embrace all classes of students—undergraduates, graduate students, summer students, extension students. Of California's 43,266 matriculates, 22,744, or more than half, are taking extension courses."

New York Herald on Iowa hens: "The Northern Baptists have a resourceful ways and means committee. They have just issued a call to the Baptist women of the farm districts in Iowa asking them to contribute to mission purposes all the eggs laid on Sundays from now until the first of May. They picked out a good State for such a plan, for Iowa hens produce about one-fourteenth of all the twenty billion eggs that are laid annually in the United States. The year round average of the Iowa hens is 45,000 dozen a day; but as this is the rush season in the laying business it is likely that Iowa hens will average 100,000 dozen every Sunday between now and the end of April."

Chicago Tribune on jury duty: "Moved by evidence that frequent miscarriages of justice are due to the dodging of jury service by intelligent and reputable citizens, E. E. Sunny in a letter to Judge Kieckhefer, Seaman has pledged the Illinois Bell Telephone company to the high duty of encouraging jury service. Mr. Sunny is correct in the statement that 'one of the outstanding causes of the shocking miscarriage of justice can easily be traced to the dodging of jury service by men who are otherwise intelligent, honest and courageous.'"

Ninety thousand California black walnut trees will be distributed by the State to be planted along the highways. The tree-planting campaign has been started with the intent of beautifying the highways and affording shade to motorists. Counties which have applied for allotments are Yolo, San Diego, Merced, Madera, Fresno, Monterey and Solano.—Vallejo Chronicle.

The Oregonian sees in Mississippi projects what is possible on the Columbia: "Success of the Mississippi barge line conveys a lesson to the people along other navigable waterways. It proves that modern craft, regularly operated on waterways of considerable length through country productive of much traffic can be made to pay. It is an incentive to construction of dams at the rapids of the Columbia, which will both make the river navigable for barges and will develop waterpower to operate industries that will supply traffic for the barges."

Senator Reed summed up by the New York World: "There is something dependable about Senator Reed of Missouri. You can always depend on him to collect all the suspicions, all the rumors, all the bad feelings, all the whippers, gather them up and shout them at the Senate. While Jim Reed lives no one will ever be able to say that the American people are denied the opportunity to hear the worst in the worst possible manner."

Brooklyn Eagle on an approaching Russian: "Canada welcomes General Semenov, asking no question. But Washington assures us that if he tries to come here he will feel like a Laocoon twisted around by serpentine interrogations. And there never was a volunteer Laocoon."

Musie item from the Kansas City Star: "It is well known that several opera companies are pursuing retrenchment policies these days, and the resulting salary cuts may cause us to hear that quite a number of prima donnas have released their chauffeurs, footmen, husbands, and so on, before next season arrives."

Chicago News on the radio craze: "Radio is capturing the boys in greater numbers than any other of their enthusiasms since the early bicycle days, except war. It is raising up a generation of young scientists and the results are bound to be important to the whole human race."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE GARDEN CATALOG.

There's never frost nor blight nor weeds.

Nor neighbor's chickens, cats or dogs.

To ruin all the tender seeds.

That flourish in the catalogues;

The humblest vine that's planted there.

Blossoms without the slightest care.

There are no withered stalks to see.

No pitiful attempts to thrive.

No shrub that struggles desperately.

To catch the sun and stay alive;

In catalogs the larkspur seems

To match the gardener's fondest dreams.

The red geranium is strong.

Its clump of blossom full and round.

No wind storm ever comes along

To sweep the cosmos to the ground.

No youngster ever bats a ball

Among the roses, straight and tall.

I turn the pages o'er and o'er

And see the pansies dark as wine.

And think, as I have thought before,

These are superior to mine;

In my poor garden, never yet

Has bloomed such lovely magnonette.

Since pansies have the storms to face

And men must battle day by day,

They cannot wear the charm and grace

Their printed catalogs display:

Life is much sterner than it looks

And scars are seldom shown in books.

THE JESTER.

Dramatic Hours.

The late Edgar Saltus was sometimes prevailed on by New York editors to write dramatic criticisms. His criticisms were always severe and amusing.

Mr. Saltus one evening went to criticize a very popular actor in "Hamlet." He did not like the actor, and his criticism consisted of the words:

"Mr. Blank played 'Hamlet' last night at the Lyric. He played it from 8:15 till 11:40."—Los Angeles Times.

Many Are.

"Where are you going, girls?" "To the capital. An investigating committee is taking up the matter of short skirts."

"Are you on exhibit?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

What Science Now Says About Scarlet Fever Infection

By ROYAL S. COOPERLAND, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

Every decade has its change of thought. You learned the old-fashioned waltz, but you had to change your step every few years or give up the dance.

To keep up with the advancing ideas of sanitation requires many doctors and most laymen to be mental acrobats. What we accepted as gospel truth when I was a boy is laughed at today.

We used to think the scarlet-fever patient was surrounded by an atmosphere, or an emanation, or a miasm of some sort. We thought this was caused by penetrating the clothing, or clinging to the hair, or of attaching itself to books or papers. We believed every person who approached the patient became contaminated and unclean.

The doctor covered his clothing with a gown when he visited the case. The nurse wrapped up her head and never touched anything outside the patient's room without washing her hands in some vile-smelling disinfectant.

When the illness ended the room was fumigated and disinfected. Sulphur was burned or formaldehyde vapor was confined in the room for hours. The bedding was sterilized, the walls washed down, the room repapered and the woodwork painted. The scarlet-fever patient was quarantined, the house was placarded, the schools were closed and the poor little patient was treated like the leper of Bible times.

All these ideas and practices have been discarded.

The scientists, without discovering the particular germ responsible for the disease, have determined that scarlet fever is conveyed only by the discharges of the body. The secretions of the nose and mouth are considered particularly dangerous.

The "peeling" or "scaling" period is dreaded now merely because it coincided with the time of greatest discharge of the germs from the nose and mouth.

So there we are! You can look in on the case, and, if you do not touch the patient or anything soiled by his secretions, you are said to be perfectly safe. No longer is it believed that inanimate objects are likely to carry contagion. The teaching now is that "disease is carried by persons and not by things."

How hard it is for us to reconcile ourselves to the new teachings. All our old-fashioned ideas of ethics and medicine have to be made over if we believe the progressives. Anyhow, it's pretty well established that we were wrong about scarlet fever. If we keep our hands clean and our households clean, and prohibit coughing and sneezing without covering the face with the handkerchief, scarlet fever loses its terror. But, of course, we should take no chances. We must exercise care and good sense. In the meantime, let us pray that the scientists will speedily find the cause of scarlet fever and some means of immunizing against it.

COL. IRBY, HOME, TELLS OF ESCAPE AS SHARK BAIT

Former Customs Official Sees Boy in Sydney Eaten by Shark.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Imperiled by a shark while taking a swim while the liner Sonoma was in Sydney, Australia, Col. John S. Irby, former customs official, has been rescued by a shark escape from death or serious injury. The colonel completed his trans-Pacific voyage when the Sonoma arrived from the Antipodes.

With Chief Steward J. Joseph Carleton, Col. Irby was taking a swim when a school of sharks made a sudden appearance. By clever swimming the colonel and Carleton managed to get back safely to their vessel. The Sydney boys were not, however, so fortunate.

Playing about in the water the youngsters failed to sense the danger until it was too late. One of them was eaten by a shark and the other two lost an arm apiece.

Col. Irby, who is a former newspaper man, told the story of his experience when the Sonoma reached quarantine today.

"I had never had an experience with a shark before, although I had heard considerable about them," explained the colonel. "We were naturally thankful for our safety but were cast into gloom by the fate of the youngsters. It was a horrible thing. I would not like to witness it again."

Colonel Irby was an appointee of the Wilson administration. He had previously been secretary to United States Senator James D. Phelan.

Starving Mother Fights to Care for Hungry Babies

With her husband in prison, Mrs. Roy E. Rogers is working hard, against overwhelming odds, to keep her little family together, and obtain a pardon for him. She is shown here with her two little children, Ethel, 2 years old, and Gladys, 4.

Wife of San Quentin Convict Has Single Bare Room and No Food

A blue-eyed baby girl couldn't very well be expected to understand all about the state board of pardons. Even when one's tired, crippled mother tries patiently to keep a little girl from constantly crying of hunger by telling her that the "board" might pardon "daddy" when he will have his hearing before it within the next few months, and that they might permit him to come home. Which means there would be plenty of good bread and butter, and stockings instead of ragged, thin dresses to wear.

Baby Ethel Rogers, two years old, can't comprehend all this, but she knows that little baby girls get very hungry—just like other people. She doesn't know why her mother puts a rubber pacifier in her mouth instead of food, and why she sleeps when she is hungry. Gladys, plays about on the bare floor of the untidy, ill-furnished room—their home—and sticks her fingers to keep back the tears: to be "mother's good little girl," says Mrs. Rogers, the mother.

BOTH VERY THIN. Both are, winnowed, blue-eyed, flaxen-haired babies. But they are thin, wretchedly clad and undernourished. Their mother, Mrs. Roy E. Rogers, is a helpless cripple, obliged to walk about with crutches, and so is unable to go out and work to help her children, even if she were able, at their tender age, to leave them. But the little woman is making a sticky fight to keep her babies and her little home together. Meanwhile she is exerting all her energies towards securing a pardon for her husband, Roy, for many weeks, serving an indeterminate sentence in San Quentin.

Following a two-day trial, Rogers was convicted before Superior Judge George Samuels of attacking Elizabeth Kennedy, 14 years old, and daughter of Mrs. Rogers, on December 14 last. He was sentenced to serve from one to fifty years.

Mrs. Rogers declares stoutly, as she did at the time of her husband's trial, that he is not guilty, and that she "will stick to him for ever and ever, and will be loyal, and smilingly cheerful despite her destitute, pitiful circumstances and the struggle she is

BRITISH CABINET DIVIDED OVER POLICY IN GENOA

Minister Colonies and Lloyd George Split on Russian Problem.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LONDON, March 28.—Rumors of differences of opinion in the cabinet regarding the Genoa conference were current in political circles generally over night and are discussed in the morning newspapers, with the suggestion by official correspondents for anti-government organs that a split in the cabinet is likely.

The known opposition of Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, to Premier Lloyd George's views respecting the recognition politically of the Bolshevik government seems to be the foundation for all the reports. The fact that the colonel's secretary emphasized these views in a speech at Nottingham Saturday is treated in some quarters as an indication that he is refusing to follow the prime minister in the latter's Genoa policy.

DIVISIVE SERIOUS. The parliamentary correspondent of the London Times says: "The divergence of opinion between Churchill and Lloyd George is a serious and introduces a fresh complication into an already delicate parliamentary situation. In the present condition of affairs it would require very little more to make it impossible for the cabinet to hold together."

"Churchill does not stand alone; other ministers are disposed to support him, but precisely how far he and they are prepared to go and the extent of the cleavage is rather obscure."

This is the gist of several other reports, some of which hint the possibility of Churchill's resignation.

BALTIC ALLIANCE. BERLIN, March 28.—(By the Associated Press).—With Karl Radek, public director of the Russian Soviet Government, and Christian Rakovsky, president of the Ukrainian republic, negotiating in Berlin with various entente and little entente representatives, and with the Bolsheviks preparing at Riga for a pre-Genoa conference of all the Baltic states, including Poland, the opinion is expressed here that a Baltic entente, with Russia as its mainstay, may face the allied representatives in Genoa and give some unexpected twists to the efforts to rehabilitate Europe.

Radek, who is not connected officially with the Moscow government, is meeting many diplomats at the Hotel de Ville, and is being chiefly by unofficial German and French agents.

Loring Drexel, the American charge d'affaires, is among the diplomats who have dined with the chief publicist of the Soviet government and of the Baltic states.

REDS GROW SUBTLE. It is no longer possible to find many traces of communism in articles or conversations of Radek and other Bolshevik leaders who are breaking the way for the Genoa negotiations. They have the bearing of promoters of loans and their talk is that of the capitalist, with a glossiness which must give pain to the dyed-in-the-wool communists who are still shouting for world revolution.

FRENCH NAME LEADER. PARIS, March 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Louis Barthou, vice-premier and minister of justice, was designated today by the cabinet to head the French delegation to the Genoa conference. M. Colrat, under-secretary to the premier, and three others will be named to serve with him.

LONDON, March 28.—Delegates to represent the British dominions at the Genoa economic conference have been appointed as follows: Canada—Sir Charles Gordon of Montreal and Professor Edouard Montpetit of the University of Montreal.

Australia—Sir Joseph Cook, high commissioner in London.

Union of South Africa—Sir Edgar Walton, high commissioner in London; Sir Henry Strakosch and probably Robert Henry Brand, who was named British high commissioner in London for many months in 1917-18.

Appointment of the Indian delegates has been delayed by the changes in the India office.

BRIDE AND TWO INFANTS TRIES TO "RIDE RODS"

Mrs. Hill, according to the story she told the police, had been evicted from a rooming house for failure to pay rent. She said her husband left Denver recently for Davenport, where he had been unable to find employment immediately.

OLD SYSTEM OF SPELLING SUITS U. C. PROFESSOR

BERKELEY, March 28.—"Simplified spelling is neither beautiful, useful nor funny," is the opinion of Professor R. P. Utter of the University of California. He also believes it is non-essential. Professor Utter is at present arranging a number of journalistic courses for the university, and he says that simplified spelling can not win a place in the journalistic world.

"It does not require any more effort to spell a word in the old way than it does to remember the simplified way," he says. "Simplified spelling must win its own place in the world, and it has not a winning personality."

Man With Two Wives Says Act Was Legal

BERKELEY, March 28.—Two wives with a continent separating them proved too much for Nikolai Rautio, alias Lars Valen, carpenter employed at the University of California, who today is in the custody of the Berkeley police.

The women claiming Rautio are Mrs. Anna Vaaranen, Wallen, 30, New York, by whom Rautio has a 6-year-old son, and Mrs. Tynnen Sunila, Rautio, 26, who was married to the Berkeleyan in January of this year.

Rautio admits both marriages. He claims that the first was New York, and the second was under the law of Finland, of which country he is a native, a mere notion of separation served on a spouse is all that is sufficient to pave the way for a new marriage, he says. He denies that such a law exists and declares that the latter knows otherwise.

Rautio married his New York wife under the name of Lars Valen in 1915. His wedding to Miss Tynnen Sunila occurred in Oakland in the early part of January.

JOKERS SEND SEVEN TAXIS FOR 'WEDDING PARTY'

BERKELEY, March 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Linn, 1422 Addison street, are looking for practical jokes today who sent every taxi cab in Berkeley to their door last evening when the police took a whack or two at the offenders themselves if they are ascertained.

The first of the army of taxis arrived at the Linn home early in the evening.

"Where's the bride and groom?" demanded the driver.

"Which bride and groom?" came from the startled Linn.

Investigation disclosed that the driver had been sent to the address to get a wedding party. Immediately following the first taxi came another and still another. Before the Linn could catch their breath they saw a line of seven taxis waiting in front of the door. They decided that a joke could be carried too far and they called the police.

Two "suspects" were taken to police station, but disclosed nothing.

AD. CAMPAIGN OF ELECTRIC FIRM TOLD IN OAKLAND

Contractors and Dealers Are Called Into Conference by Heads of Factories.

Inaugurating a new and intensive program of advertising, which will result in a closer relation between the dealers and the consumer, and to standardize the electrical industry, the Pacific Electric Company, at an informal meeting at the Hotel Oakland last night, explained in detail their campaign to leading electrical contractors and dealers of the Eastbay district.

The meeting was attended by about 75 contractors and dealers, in addition to officials of power companies and electrical men of the Pacific coast.

The principal speaker was J. D. Barnhill of San Francisco and New York, who spoke on general conditions of the electrical industry, and declared that it had reached a turning point and was entering a new era. He told in detail what was hoped to be accomplished by the company's new advertising program, which was to be put into effect in April, and characterized it as "the biggest, broadest and most comprehensive program ever released by the electrical industry."

BUILDING CRISIS

"The real economic crisis of today is in the building industry," said Barnhill. "The average house put up today stands to lose the owner 10 per cent in five years." He told the part played in this depreciation by faulty construction and imperfect electrical installation, and said that builders could add $500 more to a $3500 house just as well and have a permanent home instead of a depreciation.

Speaking of the Pacific Electric Company's new advertising program, Barnhill said that the contractors and dealers are partners in the enterprise, and unless they were served the company would not benefit. He emphasized the necessity of co-operation and outlined the part that should be played by the stores, saying that salesmanship was nothing more than ability to "show the public how easy it is to do business with the electric company."

CONTRACTOR GOING

"In six years the contractor as we know him today will not exist," continued the speaker, "as the brain and distributing end of the industry, unless he takes a different attitude toward the consumer. We have analyzed the situation and have furnished him with a means of saving the electrical industry. The industry rests with the contractor, and unless he changes and becomes a progressive we shall not be able to seek other sources of distribution."

"Good service to the consumer is necessary, and that doesn't mean exorbitant prices, but it does mean good fair prices, and not selling inferior electrical material at low cut prices. Make your store the 'check place' for the sale of the people in your community."

Mr. H. Harris, vice-president and general sales manager of the company, acted as chairman of the meeting, and told of the survey he and Barnhill made of a number of northern cities, including Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, and Spokane.

Among those who attended the meeting and made short talks were P. H. Booth, vice-president of the Edison Electric Appliance Company, of Chicago; R. Davis, assistant advertising manager of the General Electric Company of Schenectady, N. Y.; Lee H. Newbert, manager of the Eastbay division of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company; E. H. Woodward, manager of the Great Western Power Company, and Hugh Kimball, president of the Kimball Electric Company.

Little Theater Will Present "Spoon River"

HEDWIG REICHER, producing director of Oakland's Little Theater, who will interpret Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" tomorrow night at the Home Club.

First Presentation of Poetry on Any Stage to Be Made in Oakland.

Oakland theater-goers, and especially those who patronize Oakland's Little Theater, will be afforded something new tomorrow night when Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" will be interpreted on the stage at the Home Club in Fourth Avenue Heights. This is the first time in the United States or Europe that this has been attempted. The staging of the poetry was talked of in New York before the war, and the Poetry Theater League of New York was prepared to attempt it when the war came along and prevented its financial backing.

The poem, "Spoon River Anthology," has to do with a little town outside Chicago, to which returns after death the spirits of the rich and poor, where they find all worldly possessions they had before death gone, and that they now, in the spirit life, have much in common. Some of the most interesting characters of the city have been selected to enact some of these parts.

The production tomorrow night is the third of a series of five that will be staged by the Little Theater under the direction of Hedwig Reicher.

The board of directors of the Little Theater Club of Oakland is composed of the following: V. O. Lawrence, president; Arthur Moore, K. Le Roy Hammond, Dr. Carl Aronson, Mrs. Charles Alvin Spears, Mrs. Fannie Ward Miller and Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffee.

EXPERTS SAY BOY SLAYER NOT SANE AT KILLING TIME

Henry Heuer, On Trial for Cabral Murder, Held Abnormal, 'Morally Insane.'

MARTINEZ, March 28.—The prosecution will start rebuttal of the expert testimony of the defense in the Henry Heuer case at least two o'clock this morning. At least two alienists, Dr. F. W. Robertson of Livermore, and Dr. W. G. Ogden, of Napa, asylum, will be called. District Attorney A. B. Tinning says Heuer is "morally insane" and that arguments will be begun immediately and will finish Wednesday morning. The case will go to the jury about Wednesday noon.

Five doctors and alienists who testified for the defense at yesterday afternoon's session agreed that Heuer is a psychopath but two of the five declared he was not insane on January 6, the night of the crime. Hygienic questions based on a 2500-word survey of the history of the Heuer family as related to evidence by the husband, of drunkenness and disease in early life, conditions surrounding the boy's life and environment in later life were propounded to all expert witnesses.

The witnesses agreed that Heuer's mental capacity was not sufficient to distinguish between right and wrong; that he did not know he was violating the rights of others and he did not have the mental capacity to know or appreciate the consequences of his act. But four questions were asked each of the witnesses by the defense attorneys: all were subjected to rigid cross-examination. It was on cross-examination that two of the witnesses said that Heuer was not insane on January 6, and that his insanity was "morally insane" or "not legally insane."

The testimony of the alienists in classifying Heuer as a psychopath was much the same. Dr. O. D. Hamlin of Oakland declared that most question never occurred to Heuer.

"The boy was under a 'strong stimulation' for several weeks," Dr. Hamlin declared. "If he had been told the gravity of his crime before he would have stopped. Being a psychopath he is easily led, especially by this individual who stimulated his desire."

"A psychopath is one of low-grade mentality—not insane. It is on the borderline of sanity and insanity. The individual is led along by circumstances, especially under stimulation."

Extensive reference was made by witnesses to "this woman" and "this individual" with respect to Mrs. Emma Cabral, widow of the slain man, with whom Heuer said he became intimate.

The alienists pictured Mrs. Cabral as Heuer's "goddess" whom he could not conceive of doing a wrong act; a person whom he worshipped and revered and whose desires he never placed above all else.

Dr. Stanley Smith, superintendent of the Mendocino state hospital, held that Heuer bordered on sanity and insanity and declared he may yet become totally insane.

The alienists who testified, closing the case of the defense, were Dr. J. S. Mason, Dr. Clara Spaulding and Dr. J. D. Spaulding, of Richmond.

By DOUG MONTELL.

After showing the Sacramento Coast League Club a bad time over the week end, Chet Bost's colored all-stars arrived yesterday and were just in time to be handed a 3-2 beating by St. Mary's College in ten innings of the niftiest baseball dished up on the local college grounds this season. During the earlier stages of the game it looked as though the colored champs were about to swing their way to a flock of runs, for they waved a mean set of bats but Lindblum weathered the storm nicely for the regulation distance, giving way to Gene Van Houtte in the extra frame that was necessary for the collegians to connect at the right moment to beat the crack aggregation from the East. The win was entirely deserved as far as the local boys' performance was concerned, ten safeties being gathered off of Charleston who elected to toss them over from the port side.

Probably the week-end of success in the capital city had something to do with the work of the All-Stars, for they were not going at their best according to Bost, who maintained that they are the niftiest team that has been assembled. Indifferent fielding on the part of McNair in left field was responsible, to a certain extent for the collegians' win, but the Madison men garnered enough safe cracks to justify saying that they won by a clean margin.

Colored Stars Are

Classy Men at Bat.

Some of the sweetest swatters who have ever pastimed in local parts are with the Colored All-Stars, but one man being waved to the bench in the ten innings and that one in the pinch in the final frame when Van Houtte struck out Fagen with men on second and third and the score a tie. The remainder of the day the gentlemen from the East were busy crashing the spheroid to various parts of the pasture and excellent fielding cut off several runs. Speaking of fielding the work of Fagen around second base for the Colored Stars was the greatest exhibition of the year, in the eighth inning he made a spectacular stop of a hard hit ball by Valencia nearly over the second sack and with a quick throw while running from first base came close to tossing out the St. Mary's outfielder on a clean hit. The visitors infield played fancy ball in spots and two double plays, one by Mackey unassisted and the other by Fagen and McNair, kept the home team from scoring. The game was a close one, with the home team leading 2-1 in the eighth inning, but the visitors' bats were thrown in for good measure.

The first damage that came off Lindblum's stick was a home run, All-Stars went out to produce a lead. Fagen led off with a slashing double and Jeffery singled and stole second. Hawkins, the hard hitting first-sacker of the Colored Stars, was manifestly disappointed with the tied count and clicked one of Lindblum's offerings to dead right. The drive that bounded off Stockton for a home run before the ball could be returned. The one run was sufficient for a lead to the next frame when St. Mary's again came from behind to knot the count. Wales again started the trouble with a quick, beautiful double to deep left. Valencia singled to left to send Wales to third and when McNair juggled a ball, Wales scored. Valencia was tossed out stealing. Hawkins, out of breath from his homer, was now out of patience and retired in favor of Taylor.

The Stars again threatened in the fifth when Jeffery led off with a triple over Rooney's head in center field and Rease and McNair were retired. Lindblum to Valencia and Taylor bounded out Doran to Valencia. After being unable to score in the ninth Van Houtte was sent to work and the Saints in the tenth and although Mackey singled and got to third and Pullen drew a life on Harrington's error no runs scored when Fagen fanned.

Five Practice Games Are On Oaks' Schedule

Games With the Chicago Cubs Will Put Them Through the Real Test.

The Oakland ball club is scheduled to meet the University of California this afternoon at the university diamond. It is a rather busy week for Ivan Howard's athletes, as tomorrow they will return to their own ball yard in Emeryville to battle the All Army team from the Fresno at San Francisco. Tim Harrington, bringing over a strong club to meet the Oaks. The game will start at 2:15 o'clock. Thursday will see the Oaks out for their first game with the Chicago Cubs. This game will also be played at Emeryville at 2:15 o'clock. The Oaks will get the real acid test in this game. Friday the local club will content itself with a three-hour practice and will get into another ball game next Saturday afternoon with Frank Woodward's All Stars. This game will be a benefit affair, the receipts to be turned over to the Mother's Club which makes a practice of seeing that the under-nourished children of the city are cared for. Each day the various divisions of the Mother's Club visits the schools at the Eastbay and at 10 o'clock in the morning give a bottle of milk and sandwiches to school children in need of them. Hundreds of tickets have already been sold, and Frank Woodward has promised to have a strong club against the Oaks.

Sylvester Johnson

Has Broken Wrist

DETROIT, March 28.—Sylvester Johnson, formerly of Portland, one of Detroit's promising recruit hurlers, was hit on the pitching hand in a practice game at Union, South Carolina, last week, and an X-ray yesterday disclosed a fracture in the wrist.

Johnson, who was with the Athletics, was moved northward next week and probably will not be able to take his turn on the mound until some time after the opening of the championship race.

Detroit yesterday defeated the Augusta club of the South Atlantic League 6 to 5.

Giants Run Wild

Against 'Red' Faber

CHICAGO, March 28.—After four defeats administered by the second-ridded Chicago Americans, the New York Giants today sat back and contemplated several safe cracks made yesterday of the offerings of "Red" Faber, premier pitcher in the American League last season. The Giants out by a 11 to 3 score and this scored their second victory in the pre-season series.

Ruth, Meusel Not

Worrying Huggins

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—Although the suspension of Ruth and Meusel hurt him, I believe that eventually I will put a stronger team in the race than I had last year," said Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, just before the Yankees broke camp and left last night for an exhibition tour of Texas with the Brooklyn National team. The Brooklyn team with Beaumont as their first stop.

"The situation in right field has cleared up some with the showing made by Miller," he added. "The pitchers are rounding to in good form. We have great reserve strength. The infield will remain as it is and will be a strong machine when Pipp gets right. I believe he will be all right for the opening."

By ROB SHAND. The Hon. Noah Webster did not include the definition of "A Good Game Guy" when he went into the literary business, but the generally accepted definition is "A gent who will try anything once."

That's Cliff Durant, middle name "Speed."

Having promised not to risk his life on the boards, Cliff went in for airplanes and set a few records in the clouds for the boys to beat. He was some high flier for a few years, chasing Saturn around the circuit, and daring Mars to come out and fight. One day he got into an argument with the man who runs the sun. This won him a lot of publicity, but he looked for something else to occupy his spare time.

One day friend told him he was interested in yachting. Cliff wasn't, but he thought the matter over and sure, if he could get a motor yacht on the coast, the boat is now being constructed at the Cryer shipyard in Oakland and the engines are being put together by the Lorimers at the Atlas Gas Engine Works.

Superintendent Ralph Lorimer says the engines will shoot the big craft through the water at better than 25 knots an hour, which will be traveling some. The big boat will be luxuriously fitted and will carry a crew of 12.

GOING AFTER THE POLE.

Cliff's first cruise will be to the north pole or as near that stick as he can reach. If he finds it he promises to bring it back and stick it in the City Hall plaza. Cliff always did have his doubts about the trip, but he knew that the trip was a good thing. In preparation for the trip Durant is practicing nautical phrases. Alamy knows what it means when the first mate yells, "Abait the binnacle compass and take a pair of reefs in the foremast."

He also knows that a belayin' pin is a pin that is used to hold a rope in place. He also knows that a port is something else than Sherry's brand and that a starboard is the right hand of a ship when you are looking forward. He'll be thorough and nautalized before the trip starts.

A. L. WASHINGTON IS GOING. While Cliff is studying seamanship, A. L. Washington has joined the TRIBUNE Radio Club and will be competent to handle the wireless end of the business. He will keep in touch with the club and the bunch in the First National Bank building here and will also make arrangements to get the results of the Auditorium races as soon as they take place. If the Arctic regions take on the party the boys will hook a few whales and things and let it go at that, as they have many friends in Honolulu, and anyhow it's much warmer in Hawaii than in the very far north. The program at present calls for a dash to the north pole, a cruise to Hawaii and the South Sea Islands. There's a cinch to see Honolulu and the Islands.

Strike out the forward tansal, lower away the jib, port your helm, put more straw in the crew's nest, and pipe all hands, above.

Hoppe Says Champ Got Break in the Play Last Night

"He Made Almost Every Conceivable Shot, But I Can Beat Him."

By WILLIE HOPPE

Former Billiard Champion of the World.

(Written for International News)

CHICAGO, March 28.—I realize I have a tough opponent. Schaefer played wonderful billiards last night. He made almost every conceivable shot. He showed resourcefulness, brilliance and nerve.

But, I think I can beat him. I am a little proud of the game I played last night. I copied Schaefer that it will be hard to lose me. At one stage of last night's contest, after Schaefer made his spectacular run of 252, I appeared to the spectators to be hopelessly beaten. Schaefer followed this close run of 252, missing on a difficult masse shot. He then had me 446 to 190. That looked bad.

Then I held myself and got going. I did. I clicked off 260 points for the high run of the night. I had counted 146 points in that run and appeared to have victory in the first break in his grasp.

Hoppe, displaying a grim nerve and summing up his old mystery, clicked off 260 points and drew into a lead. Schaefer, apparently discouraged by his recovery, played inferior billiards for the next three innings, although his careful leaves permitted Hoppe nothing in the tenth frame. Schaefer got the balls together after a few hard shots and ran the unfinished 34.

As the score now stands, it's really a close thing. I am confident I will win.

Men and women—whether you will ever build yourself up to your normal, just-right weight depends on the number of blood-cells in your system. If there is too little, it's a scientific fact. If your blood-cell factory isn't working right, you will be run-down, and perhaps your face will be broken out with pimples, blackheads and eruptions. S. S. S. keeps your blood-cell factory working full time. It helps build new blood-cells. That's why S. S. S. builds up thin, run-down people. It puts firm flesh on your bones, it rounds out your face, arms, neck, limbs, the whole body. It puts the "ring" in your cheeks. It takes the hollowness from the eyes, and it fools Father Time by smoothing out wrinkles in men and women by "plumping" them up. S. S. S. is a remarkable blood-purifier. While you are getting plump, your skin eruptions, pimples, blotches, acne are being removed. The medicinal ingredients of S. S. S. are pure, and purely vegetable. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

Jake Schaefer Takes a Lead Over W. Hoppe

San Francisco Boy in Fine Position to Retain the Championship.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Jake Schaefer, world's champion 18-21 billiardist, will have an opportunity from his first shot tonight to insure the 34-point lead he established last night over Willie Hoppe, former champion, when he won the first block of their 1500-point, three-night match, 500 to 486. Rounding out his fifty century with an unfinished run, de Jaks Schaefer left the balls nicely grouped at the head of the table for his opening shot tonight.

Hoppe, in his new role of challenger, and Schaefer displayed billiards last night that ran virtually as well as the former champion's. Hoppe, with his old-time delicate stroke, was the master of smooth running, his cue ball in his hands. He hesitated over, were executed with a remarkable precision, and only infrequently was he forced to table-length drive.

SOME DIFFICULT SHOTS. The young champion almost invariably had difficulty in getting the balls together and gave a great display of hard shot making. On his night's high run, 252, in the fourth inning, Schaefer's first eleven shots were of the extremely difficult type and table-length caroms predominated.

At times both showed poorly. Except for the possibilities of Schaefer's opening play tonight, the game so far might be regarded as virtually even, the 34-point difference in strings not being regarded as a great factor.

Without the champion's uncompleted inning the honors last night were all for Schaefer. Hoppe had the high run, 250, against Schaefer's 252, and the best average, 144, missing on the first, after he had won the bank and missed the opening shot, and failed to count his run in the third and fourth inning he counted only one.

BOTH MISS EASY SHOTS.

In the last part of the game brilliant safety play accounted for the small scoring, although it appeared that at times both Schaefer and Hoppe missed easy chances, especially in the first, after he had run 194, and missed both balls on a masse. He had counted 146 points in that run and appeared to have victory in the first break in his grasp.

Hoppe, displaying a grim nerve and summing up his old mystery, clicked off 260 points and drew into a lead. Claremont and Sequoyah Stars Oppose John McHugh and Lauren Upson in Last Round.

By W. D. McNICOLL

At Lakeside yesterday some excellent golf was displayed when the semi-final stages of the northern amateur championship was reached. Once more a Claremont and Sequoyah are represented in the semi-finals and fortunately do not have to eliminate each other in today's 36-hole contest. Jack Neville of Claremont disposed of Norman Macbeth, the holder of the title, but only at the 36th green. Neville was five up at the 27th, where he had played par golf and given the southern representative no chances to speak of.

GOLF FACTS worth knowing

by INNIS BROWN

Q. Just what is meant by "dormie one, dormie two, etc."?

A. A player is "dormie" one, dormie two, etc., when he leads by as many holes as remain to be played. A player is never "dormie down."

Q. A has holed out for his four. B has a putt for his four. When B's ball is accidentally stopped by A. Does A lose the holes?

A. No. If B by holding his putt could have done no better than get a half stroke, A may deprive him of the half.

Q. Can a ball be lifted and dropped out of casual water in a trap or bunker without penalty?

A. No.

Q. Is there a penalty for touching the ball in addressing it?

A. Not unless by so doing the player causes the ball to leave its original position. If the ball merely shakes or oscillates, there is no penalty.

Q. In a three-ball or four-ball match, if one player's ball knocks another's into the hole, can the latter claim to have holed out on his last previous stroke?

A. No. The ball must be replaced.

If any golf rules puzzle you, write Innis Brown, care of our Sporting Department, enclosing stamped return envelope.

Senators Hold Cubs

5-5 in Nine Frames

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—At the end of a nine-inning exhibition game of baseball, staged at Moreland field yesterday between the Chicago Cubs and the Senators Empire Heine Palm called the combat because of chill and threatened rain. The score at the time belated at 5 to 5.

The Senators showed much improvement after their three-day tussle with the colored All-Stars, many of the local fans are of an opinion that they outplayed the Cubs. Kunz was on the hill. Colonel Pick and the second baseman, when the Chicagoans scored three on a quartet of safe blows, was master of the situation at all times.

Today the Senators will journey to Folsom prison to tilt the crack Repressa team of the state. On Wednesday and Thursday the colored All-Stars will again tangle with Colonel Pick's men.

TRIBUNE RADIO CLUB WILL MEET SATURDAY AT T. D.

Special Films to Be Shown; Membership Card Is Good at the Door.

The first meeting of the TRIBUNE Radio club will be held Saturday morning at the T. & D. Theater. More than 2000 radio enthusiasts are expected to attend. Each member will be allowed to bring a friend, and a membership certificate in the TRIBUNE Radio club will admit two. In order to accommodate those who are not members of the club but who expect to join, the coupon on this page may be filled out and presented at the theater door.

The film, "Wireless Telephony," which has just been completed under the supervision of the Western Electric company, will be shown. The film shows in actual pictures the radio waves traveling from one point to another, how the waves originate and on what principle they travel. The film also shows the manufacture of instruments and the method of their construction. It is declared by radio experts to be one of the clearest interpretations of radio that has ever been attempted. The picture describes radio principles in a manner that is simple and satisfying.

Invitations were sent out today to several radio experts, and men prominent in radio circles, inviting them to speak before the TRIBUNE Radio club Saturday morning. Major J. F. Dillon, radio inspector of this district, is one of those to whom an invitation to speak before the club was sent today.

Matters pertaining to club members in general will be discussed, following the showing of the films. Something of interest to every member will be forthcoming some time during the week—something no member will care to miss. The meeting is going to be a live one from start to finish. The film alone is worth paying admission to see. Your pocket membership card in the TRIBUNE Radio club is all the admission you need, however. To those who care to come and see what the club is doing, and how it benefits the amateur, is invited to clip the admission coupon on this page and hand it in at the door. That and a good healthy smile will get you by.

Watch THE TRIBUNE from day to day for the special announcement—the one that will interest every member. Remember, this announcement has to do with something that will happen at the meeting of the club—the something you can't miss. The meeting is called for 10 o'clock sharp.

FARM AGENT BUSY.

HAYWARD, March 28.—With a meeting of the county council of the farm home department centers of Alameda county due at the offices of the Farm Bureau here Thursday afternoon and with three regular meetings to be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, Miss Carolyn Wetzel, farm home demonstration agent of the University of California extension service, is prepared for a busy week. "I'm busy," Miss Wetzel said, "but believe me, I'm glad to be. Our work is taking with the Alameda county housewives more and more all the time, and with that promise we have to be busy."

Miss Wetzel attended a meeting in Reno today, will attend one in Castro Valley Wednesday and one in Newark Friday. Thursday's meeting will be attended by representatives from Alameda, Bay View, Castro Valley, Hayward, Livermore, Independent, Livermore, Mountain House, Newark and Orchard Avenue farm centers.

Kissed Over Radio Phone

MISS ETHEL HART is seen at the window of her room in the McAlpin hotel, New York, getting her good morning kiss from her sweetie, who was far away in Brooklyn, Mass. In fact, the radio inspector of New York had to give the kiss-sender a fatherly lecture before the kisses ceased. This sort of thing is not appreciated by everyone who listens in, and therefore kisses are taboo on the air. Miss Hart is among the million or so radio fans who operate receiving sets.

Swiss Building Giant Radiophone Station

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, March 28.—A high-powered wireless telephonic station is being installed here, with which it is planned to hold daily communication with the Eiffel Tower in Paris. The apparatus will be capable of receiving messages from London, Berlin and even the United States. It is also hoped to be in constant communication with radio-equipped airplanes flying over western Europe.

Radio Is Installed On Railroad Train

CHICAGO, March 28.—The first railroad to equip a train with a wireless for its passengers was said today to be the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, which announced the installation of radio sets on its Pioneer Limited trains between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis. News received en route will be posted for the benefit of travelers as fast as it is received.

BROADCASTING TO BE DISCUSSED AT WIRELESS MEET

Schedule of Radio Stadium to Be Ironed Out by the Inspector Here.

The broadcasting schedule now in effect around the bay will furnish the principal topic for discussion at the meeting tomorrow night of the Pacific Radio Trade Association at the Engineers' club, 57 Post street, San Francisco. It will be the regular monthly dinner and members are urged to be on hand promptly at 6:30 o'clock.

The discussion of the present broadcasting schedule is expected to be a heated one as several broadcasting stations that have just entered the field are endeavoring to bring about a change in the present schedule in order that they may receive better broadcasting hours. The stations that entered the field months ago, and which have been broadcasting on their original schedules, maintain that priority rights should be recognized. It will be the duty of the late should take whatever period is left open. Operators of broadcasting stations will meet tomorrow noon to make recommendations to the meeting in the evening.

Major J. F. Dillon, radio inspector for this district, will, in the event an agreeable schedule can not be decided upon, recommend that each month the call letters of the principal broadcasting stations that are of most service to the public be drawn into a hat and drawn out, the first to be drawn to be assigned a certain period for broadcasting, the next draw to be assigned another given period, and so on down the line.

A feature of the evening will be a roll call of all the principal broadcasting stations of Northern California. Each station in turn will call in the association at the Engineers' club and put on one short record, the period for each station being but four minutes. The regular broadcasting schedule of KZY, KQW and KJQ will be suspended between 7:30 and 9:30, except as called for in the following schedule:

7:30—AGI, Presidio, Company.
7:35—Lex, J. Keyes, Company.
7:40—KZM, Western Wireless School, Oakland (TRIBUNE Station).
7:45—KZY, A-P Radio Supplies Company, Rockridge, Oakland.
7:50—KJL, Colin B. Kennedy Co., Alameda.
7:55—KJJ, The Radio Shop, Sunnyvale.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: I operate a small receiving set composed of a junior loose coupler, Remier No. 330 control panel, and loading coil, one V-tube detector, and head phones. Do not hear you as well as I do Rockridge. Why the difference? My application enclosed for membership in THE TRIBUNE Radio Club.

J. M. HOLMES, Berkeley, Route 1, Box 37. KZY operates a 250 watt set, while the TRIBUNE station is but a five-watt 'phone. In other words, KZY has 50 times the power of KZY. The five-watt 'phone, however, has a record of 1900 miles overland.

By Edward M. Davis

The previous lesson explained the manner in which the expanding or contracting lines of force in a coil of wire induced electromotive force and current in another closed coil of wire placed in close proximity to the first. This property is known as MUTUAL INDUCTION and is an important factor in the transfer of electrical energy between coils which have no electrical connection.

There is another phenomenon which takes place in a circuit when there is an increase or decrease of current in a coil of wire. This property is known as SELF INDUCTION and may be explained as follows: When current flows in the turns of a coil of wire, it creates a magnetic field about each turn. If the current increases, the magnetic lines of force in each turn expand and cut the adjacent turns of the coil. The cutting of these turns generates in them an electromotive force which opposes the electromotive force of the original current. In other words a counter electromotive force is induced which tends to prevent the increase of the original current.

If, on the other hand, the original current in the coil diminishes and height to place the antenna, and length of wire.

M. K. LAMBERT, 559 Fifty-fourth street, Oakland.

A set which would be capable of receiving over the distance you specify, would cost in the neighborhood of $100. It would consist essentially of some sort of tuning device, such as honeycomb coils or a loose coupler, a vacuum tube and an amplifier. The vacuum tube and amplifier would be contained in one cabinet. One $14 copper wire 100 feet long, raised 40 or 50 feet above the ground would make a good antenna.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: What is a good length for a single aerial wire?

ROBERT SMOUT, 320 Tenth street, Oakland. From 100 to 150 feet.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: I have been reading your articles on radio, and would like to be a member of the club. I have no set so I would have to purchase one from you. Will you let me know what one will cost, and if the set has range enough to receive up here, about 100 miles from there by air line? I am 20 miles from Ukiah.

I am working in a power house. I would have to install my set within about 500 feet of a 60,000 volt line. Would that have any serious effects on my receiving? Can a transmitting unit be added to the set?

R. E. STARR, Potter Valley, Cal. A set on which you could receive radio-phonograph concerts at your distance would cost in the neighborhood of $100. THE TRIBUNE at present does not supply such a set. Members of THE TRIBUNE Radio Club are allowed ten per cent discount on such sets until June 15.

We believe the induction from the power line would interfere with your receiving. This could be reduced to a minimum, however, by placing your antenna at right angles to the line. A transmitting set might be added at any time provided you first obtained the government license.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: Who is GUY and where is he located?

RALPH WOOD, 635 Fifty-third street, Oakland. A. Peshgain, 211 South El Molino avenue, Pasadena, Cal.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: My aerial is 25 feet high and goes to different parts of the house and joins one that comes to the lead-in. They are insulated well and I hear from you plainly and loud. My ground is tight enough but I think too long. But every week or so there is a humming noise and I can not get rid of it. I do not think it static.

5231 Market street, Oakland. This may be due to intermittent inductive effects from nearby arc lights or power lines.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: I would like to join THE TRIBUNE Radio Club. While I am a resident of Oakland I am always jumping about the state. At present I am at Copco, the lines of force in the magnetic field about each turn contract, this contraction causes the lines of force to cut the adjacent turns and induce an electromotive force which opposes the reduction of the original current.

In both cases, therefore, the effect of self induction is to oppose a change in the strength of the current either when it tends to increase or decrease.

Due to the fact that a direct current is normally steady, self induction occurs principally at the beginning or end of the flow of current. In alternating current circuits, however, through which the current flows back and forth, the property of self induction is very prominent.

The self induction of a coil of wire is much greater than that of a straight conductor and if the coil of wire is provided with a soft iron core instead of an air core, the lines of force find a much easier path through the iron and the self induction is greatly increased.

The following lesson will explain how the principle of electromagnetic induction is made use of in the alternating current transformer of the radio transmitter.

about 150 miles north of Redding, or about 15 miles from Yreka. I also spend some time at Lake Tahoe. Am I too far away to belong to the club?

WILLIAM J. THOMAS, Copco, Cal.

No, you are not too far away to belong to the club, but you are too far away to get satisfactory results out of a crystal set. You can get a set to serve you at that distance for about $100 from any of the Oakland dealers in radio supplies.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: Please inform me as to how I can get the three months course in radio work.

J. W. LE COMPTE, 2324 East Twenty-fifth avenue, Oakland.

If you desire to earn it, get in touch with the circulation department of THE TRIBUNE. If you desire to pay special rate allowed members of THE TRIBUNE Radio Club, send your name, address and telephone number to the Western Radio Institute, Hotel Oakland, Oakland, Cal., and you will be notified when the next class starts. The special price to club members is $3.00 for the three months course. Two-hour classes will be held every Saturday, both morning and afternoon. The course prepares the student to pass the federal tests to operate a transmitting station, as well as teaches the code so that the hundreds of telegraph messages on the air may be read with ease.

This answer also applies to the questions asked by Paul Franke Jr. and David Franke, 553 Pacific avenue, Alameda; Gordon C. Stark, Box 352, R. D. No. 1, Oakland; E. F. Rose, 257 Tenth street, Oakland, and William Matchett, Oakland.

U. S. to Demonstrate Airplane Radio Use

The first public demonstration of airplane radio on the Pacific Coast will be held under the supervision of the Signal Corps of the United States Army at Crissy Field, in San Francisco, next week. Thousands of radio fans will be able to listen in on messages sent out from the airplane flying at a height of 10,000 feet and under. Several elevation tests will be made. The exact date of the tests will be announced later.

Amundsen Expedition To Carry Radio Phone

NEW YORK, March 28.—The Amundsen Arctic expedition, which will leave Seattle on June 1 to drift through the northern seas past the North Pole, will be the first dash of its kind in history that will keep constantly in touch with the outside world through wireless telegraph and radio phone. This announcement was made by the leader of the expedition, Raold Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, who arrived here today from Christiania upon the Norwegian-American liner Stavangerford.

The Amundsen expedition is going to do all kinds of unprecedented things. Two airplanes will be taken along and aviators will make observations from the skies and possibly fly over the North Pole. Amundsen is going to spend several weeks in New York before going to Seattle, where his exploration ship Maud is

French League Hears Station in America

HARTFORD, Conn., March 28.—The American Radio Relay League tonight received word from Pierre Corrott, editor of a Paris wireless magazine, that French amateur radio stations have received messages transmitted by the University of Vermont station at Burlington, Vt., in a trans-Atlantic test being conducted under the auspices of the league. This is the first record of an American amateur station being heard in France.

Your dentist will tell you that four people out of every five past the age of forty have Pyorrhea. And thousands of younger persons are victims of this dangerous enemy.

Are your gums sore or tender? Do they bleed when you brush your teeth? If so, go to your dentist at once and start using Forhan's For the Gums immediately.

For bleeding gums are an early symptom of Pyorrhea which quickly loosens the teeth, until they drop out or must be pulled, and causes poisonous pus pockets to which scientists trace many serious ailments.

You can prevent Pyorrhea, or arrest its course, by the consistent use of Forhan's For the Gums in sufficient time.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's twice a day or oftener. It will keep your teeth and gums in a healthy condition.
